Death Ruled 'Justifiable Homicide'

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

Berrien County Prosecutor John Smietanka today ruled "justifiable homicide" in the death of a Benton township man who was shot by a sheriff's officer during a police chase Saturday night.

Lt. Douglas A. Tiefenbach fired the fatal shot after two men got out of a car that had crashed into a tree in a field off Naomi road, Sodus township, according to Sheriff's Capt. Ronald Immoos, who coordinated the investigation.

The chase began after a man with a shotgun was seen at Sandalic's grocery-gasoline station, Pipestone road and Nickerson avenue, Sodus township.

The shooting victim was identified as Percy Lee Brown Jr., 21, of 1850 Highland avenue.

Arrested was John Leon Gayles, 21, of 1263 Blossom lane, Benton township, described by police as a companion of Brown's.

Smietanka ruled: "Under the circumstances in this case, evidence indicates it was justifiable homicide."

Smietanka said Gayles was to be arraigned in Fifth District court today on a charge of attempted armed robbery at Sandalic's store. Smietanka said his office also was considering a charge of felony murder against Gayles because Gayles was in company of Brown during an alleged felony.

Immoos reported Brown was shot in the back of the head by a slug from a .357 magnum service pistol fired by Tiefenbach at a range of about 100 yards after Tiefenbach shouted orders for two men to stop.

Before the auto crashed into the tree, Tiefenbach fired four other shots from the same pistol, Immoos said. Immoos said one broke the windshield and two others hit fenders, but none of those injured the occupants.

Brown was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Memorial hospital.

Sheriff Forrest (Nick) Jewell said Tiefenbach gave ample warning for the occupants of the car to stop, according to all reports he received, including a statement from Gayles. Jewell said a sawed-off shotgun was confiscated.

Immoos said the shotgun was found behind a farm house that was circled by an auto during the chase.

Immoos gave an account of events that began with a call to the sheriff's department at 7:10 p.m.

A man entered Sandalic's store and asked for a bottle of pop, according to co-proprietor Mrs. Joe (Roberta) Sandalic, 48.

The man suddenly decided to leave without the pop and said he would be back later. Mrs. Sandalic told Immoos: He was not carrying any visible weapon and did not demand any money, Immoos said.

After the man left, Mrs. San-dalic became curious and walked outside, where she reportedly saw a second man, standing outside by a mailbox at a side of the store with a shotgun in his hand.

Immoos said Mrs. Sandalic ran into the roadway, calling for help to a passing auto. The auto pulled into the store lot, facing another auto that was parked.

Immoos said the passersby took down a license plate

Water Board May Appeal Drain Ruling

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State officials say a recent obscure court ruling could mean that 50,000 drains in Michigan would have to be checked for pollutants after every rain storm.

They want to appeal the ruling.

The Water Resources Commission contends the ruling could mean roadside drains would have to be licensed after public hearings and the ditches would be monitored constantly.

Commissioners say such a project would be too costly and would weaken water pollution control programs now underway.

The controversial court decision stems from a national monitoring program to protect waterways that state officials oversee for the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

Under the program, anyone discharging waste water must have a permit that limits what is being dumped and keeps close tabs on possible harm to the environment.

However, cattle feedlots and other farm operations weren't included under the EPA's interpretation of the program, ordered by Congress. That interpretation has been challenged by the National Resources Defense Council in U.S. District Court in Washington.

The court ruled farm operations must be included in the monitoring program.

But the state's Water Resources Commission says the court decision would mean constant monitoring for 50,000 major drains in Michigan.

"We just couldn't carry on the present monitoring program (of industry and sewage treatment plants)," said Ralph Purdy, the commission's executive secretary. "The work load (of checking drains) would be multiplied so much nothing would get done, even by expanding the staff," Purdy said.

He said the commission has asked the EPA to appeal the decision. Purdy added that the commission also has sent a letter of protest to Michigan's congressional delegation.

THEY HELPED: Patrick Stevenson, 29, Hipps Hollow road, Eau Claire (right) and Donald Blystone, 38, Berrien Springs, drove into lot at Sandalic's grocery store Saturday night when Mrs. Sandalic ran into road calling for help. Pair took down license number and description of parked auto and called sheriff's department when auto sped away. Stevenson, a recent graduate of Andrews university and Blystone, an Andrews seminar student, said they were driving with families to beach in St. Joseph at time. (Staff photo)

Spanish War Vet's Widow Being Evicted

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A blind, 80-year-old widow of a Spanish-American War veteran is among five women to be evicted from the Minnesota Veterans Home.

William Gregg, director of the home, says the problem is that Sally Critchfield is not a veteran. If the home is to continue to receive federal funds the beds of Mrs. Critchfield and four other women in the 85-bed infirmary section must be filled by veterans, he said.

"For most of the home's 105 years of operation, wives, widows and mothers of Minnesota war veterans have been eligible for care."

Relatives of Mrs. Critchfield were told last week they should try to make arrangements in two weeks time to remove her from the home, where she has lived 18 years.

Her granddaughter, Rusalie Seltz, is a schoolteacher at Austin, 100 miles away. She says Mrs. Critchfield has widows' pension support from the federal government and the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co., and the pensions should be able to cover expenses at a private nursing home.

"All these years that she's been there, she has been so happy," Mrs. Seltz said. As of Friday, no one had told Mrs. Critchfield that she was leaving the veterans home.

"I don't want her to worry about not having a place to live," the granddaughter said.

Calls For Scrapping Of Welfare System

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The executive director of the National Urban League says the nation's welfare system should be scrapped and replaced with a guaranteed income or tax credit.

"The nation must replace a welfare system that destroys families and discourages work," Vernon Jordan told some 6,000 delegates Sunday night at the opening session of League's 65th annual conference.

Jordan, who is a member of President Ford's clemency board, also called for "complete, immediate, universal and unconditional amnesty" for those who refused to serve during the Vietnam War. It represented a break by Jordan with the administration on the issue of amnesty.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., was scheduled to address the conference today on the nation's political system and its responsiveness to minority needs.

Jordan said under his proposal, persons below a certain income level would receive either a "universal, refundable credit income tax" or a grant, and persons above a certain income would lose the grant through taxation.

He said his plan would close tax loopholes and create a tax system fairer "than the present illusion of a progressive tax system that actually takes more from the pockets of moderate income working people than it does the rich."

Jordan said the plan would involve a merger of the welfare system with the tax system and would be administered by the Internal Revenue Service.

Jordan said those who resisted the Vietnam War should be welcomed back without penalty.

"Those with less than

Eye School Desegregation By State

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Department of Education is eyeing a proposal that would allow Michigan officials to cut off state funds to any school system which refuses to eliminate segregation.

The staff proposal would give the state's top education officials the power to determine which systems are segregated and to order that situation halted, according to department sources.

So far, they said, only federal judges have had that kind of authority in Michigan.

The proposal, drafted by the department's staff, also contains a provision designated to encourage Michigan's mostly white suburban school systems to participate voluntarily in metropolitan school integration plans.

The draft policy statement has been under discussion by the state Board of Education for several months, sources said, and was last discussed in May when it was returned to the staff for redrafting.

The secretary to the state board said the new draft is about ready for board discussion again.

The draft says the state constitution makes it clear "the responsibility for providing educational opportunity belongs to the state." Since the state has delegated administration of schools to local school boards, the proposal concludes:

"School desegregation is a local responsibility.... The declared position of the state Board of Education is that local school boards must take steps, under state guidelines, to eliminate segregation in Michigan public schools."

The policy statement is not likely to be adopted soon, and its tougher sections may be dropped by the board altogether, sources told the Detroit Free Press.

The board has gone on record in support of school desegregation, but has never taken action to force or even encourage integration in local school systems.

A report due for release on Tuesday by the state Civil Rights Commission is expected to criticize the state board and other officials for failing to enforce pre-integration provisions of various state laws and the Michigan Constitution.

State board figures indicate 28 of the state's 531 school systems have at least one segregated school.

Solzhenitzyn Continues To Confound Most Americans

That controversy is good for people is an accepted psychological principle. Most marriage counselors recommend a family fight once in a while to clear the air and to release pent-up hostilities eating away at husband and wife.

That it is equally good for the country is an enshrined doctrine. The politicians are constantly urging their opponents to come out in the open to debate the issues.

That it can be counterproductive to the point of throwing dust around the picture which the disputants are trying to unveil is also indisputable.

Alexander Solzhenitzyn, the Russian writer now lecturing and writing in the U.S., aptly illustrates this potential for a virtue turning into a vice.

He is one of a handful among native critics of the Soviet regime to survive the Kremlin's liquidating techniques and to be given his freedom from prison while still sound in mind and body.

Since coming to our country he has written and spoken at length on Communism and in the process thoroughly confused his audience, sufficiently so that Americans are splitting off into pro and anti-Solzhenitzyn camps.

George Meany, who seemingly will die with his boots on as president of the AFL-CIO, is an ardent admirer.

Spurning him as ultra liberal outcasts such as the American Civil Liberties Union, the National Lawyers Guild and the World Council of Churches.

Somewhere in between is Secretary of State Kissinger who advised President Ford not to accord Solzhenitzyn an audience for fear the Kremlin might toss our fragile detente out the window. The other day Ford reversed himself, but not in time to hear out the author before departing for the Helsinki conference which several ethnic groups in the U.S. condemn as a final sellout to Soviet imperialism.

If strongminded Americans of the type above described read Solzhenitzyn's message from conflicting angles, it prompts the thought of the message being less than clear.

A few weeks back Meany invited the author to address the AFL-CIO's national convention at New York City.

His opening remarks refuted press reports on an earlier speech that his mission is an appeal to Americans to lift the Communist yoke from their countrymen's necks.

Not at all, declared Solzhenitzyn. Only the Russians can liberate themselves.

The U.S. can help, he continued, by refusing further economic trade, including technological assistance, with the U.S.S.R. He postulates that the Communist economic approach is so inherently shaky that if deprived of outside help, it will collapse within 10 to 15 years and with it will wither away the oppression by which the Kremlin sustains itself.

He concluded with these words:

"Relations between the Soviet Union and the United States of America should be such that there would be no deceit in the question of armaments, that there would be no concentration camps, no psychiatric wards for healthy people. Relations should be such that the throats of our women would no longer be constricted with tears; that there would be an end to the incessant ideological warfare waged against you, and that an address such as mine today would in no way be an exception."

While his first and third points appear self-conflicting, they are reconcilable on the assumption of his second thesis becoming a reality; but to revert to economic isolation to accomplish Point No. 2 would simply reinstate the Cold War in one form or another.

Furthermore, the Arab petroleum monopoly, if nothing else, should make it inescapably apparent that economic isolation inevitably means a slump toward a low living standard for all countries.

The relationship between a sound economy and the human freedom urged by Solzhenitzyn has yet to be documented more fully.

It is a connection he fails to perceive or at the least to explore.

It is this theorem of heading south to go north which clouds the issue unnecessarily.

Not Enough

Everybody complains about high taxes, but nobody does anything about them except just — complain. There are few signs of the "taxpayers' revolt" learned observers sometimes write about.

People continue to put up with inefficiency and waste in government, even when the power is in their hands to correct it. If the voters were as concerned about rising costs as they profess to be they would be marching on state capitals and demanding change.

It may be that one day the people will awaken to the fact that their government on all levels is costing them a great deal more than is necessary and doing more than it should.

Russia's A Poor Citizen On Conservation Front

Failing in diplomatic efforts to control overfishing by some of the major fishing fleets plying the oceans, individual nations are left little choice but to protect as best they can offshore waters which provide the mainstay of local fishing industries. Among the worst of the fishing fleet predators are the ships belonging to the Soviet Union.

Among the largest whalers in the world, the Soviets nevertheless have refused, along with another whaling giant — Japan, to join an effective international whale control agreement. This despite the fact it is obvious the whaling industry will have a sparse future unless conservation measures are enacted to restrain the depletion of this huge mammal.

But Soviet fishermen are not particular what fishing grounds they deplete, as long as they are not their own. The announcement by the Canadian government that it has closed its East Coast ports to Soviet fishing vessels because of over-fishing in the Northwest Atlantic is an example of the actions other nations will have to take to protect themselves against uncooperative fleets.

For three years the U.S. Congress has been considering various legislation to extend fishing rights 200 miles offshore. This year the issue appears to be heading toward completed legislation by fall, not because the United States likes the concept — it doesn't — but because the fishing predators are continuing to deplete offshore resources. It is the domestic fishermen who pay the consequence.

A LONG FIGHT AGAINST PENETRATOR

Editor,
In regards to the I-94 Penetrator route way back in 1963-Nov. 8.

At that time I, George Drexel, and Harry Zick and some more citizens had collected 1,004 signatures against the penetrator.

These petitions were presented to the Highway department at the meeting in the Milton Jr. high school gymnasium on Niles Avenue in St. Joseph and were turned down.

Martin Beckman, a neighbor of mine, had 27 signatures for said penetrator which the State Highway department took, and one of the signers said he only signed it as a favor for Mr. Beckman, so that left 26 for it.

On March 21, 1964 I wrote to the Honorable George Romney, Governor of Michigan, the following letter:

"Dear Sir:
Now that you are in office, when are you going to help stop some of this useless spending of the tax payers money, building uncalled for penetrator route, such as the proposed I-94 penetrator route through St. Joseph Twp., which the citizens of this township opposed with over one thousand signatures. This petition was sent to the Highway Commissioner, John Mackie.

Now, I would like to know if we the people of St. Joseph Township, are citizens of this Great Republic and the State of Michigan. If so, does not the Constitution of the United States of America say that, all men should be allowed a right to a hearing and defend themselves.

At this time we send a photo of a crash on Euclid Ave. and I-94 business route (East Main St.), Benton Twp. If this proposed route through St. Joseph Twp. goes through, Berrien county will have another death trap at the intersection of US 31 (or Niles Ave.), Washington Ave. with the penetrator.

Signed Yours Truly,
George E. Drexel

The federal government spent $100,000 for a survey to an outside firm this spring to evaluate this route; and I believe the majority were opposed to this route; and I believe the majority were opposed to this route (penetrator through St. Joseph Township). In regards to what St. Joseph Township spent in fighting this route is nothing to what the government spent.

There are a few hard heads and politicians who would like to see this go through.

I say they can widen Niles Ave., US 31, to four lanes from I-94 exchange to the city limits. As the State of Michigan took over the old Interurban Track on the southwest side of Niles Ave. from Hollywood Rd. to Lincoln Ave. when it was abandoned in 1935 as I, George E. Drexel was Treasurer of St. Joseph Township at that time. This was the Southern Michigan and Northern Indiana Railway for back taxes.

What we need bad is a new road from St. Joseph to the state line to connect up with Indiana new US 31, as the old US 31 is an old horse and buggy road. Indiana has their stretch finished and Michigan is dragging their feet.

It is my opinion, that this County was for the majority of the people and not for a few.

Too Much Justice For Joan Little?

RALEIGH, N.C. — Joan Little has come a long way from the wrong way. Until a year ago a troublesome, dead-ended delinquent serving 7 to 10 years for breaking and entering, her fortunes were remarkably altered on a hot August evening when she killed her jailer with an ice pick. Far from plunging her into further obscurity, the event made the girl a period heroine. Now on trial here for murder, she is supported by contributed money, volunteer lawyers, and hundreds of sympathetic people who wait daily outside the courthouse for a glimpse of her person.

To a degree, the support for the suddenly famous young woman (she's 20) is to be expected. Though she admits killing the jailer, she pleads self defense — he was trying to rape her, she says. Given her former obscurity, vulnerability, and the fact she is black and the jailer was white, it was perhaps inevitable that human rightsists would rally to her predicament.

Yet healthy support for Joan Little has in the crush of things been forced aside by something less encouraging. In their demands for justice here, competing self-interest groups have so inflamed the circumstances that satisfying justice may never be possible. Impartial legal observers here and elsewhere wonder privately if this won't become a case that never ends, where any decision is suspect, where the whole truth is out of reach.

The worry is that the case has grown lopsided toward the defendant's version. The national publicity, some say, has prejudiced popular opinion in Ms. Little's favor. Civil and women's rights organizations have clouded the immediate issues with complex social confusions. Besides this, the small town lawyers prosecuting the case may not be equipped to effectively balance the $200,000 worth of legal protection raised publicly by the defense. Unfortunately, the other side can never be heard with complete equality. Much of it died with jailer, Clarence Allgood on that hot August evening. Still, even a hasty glance at the surviving evidence raises questions in his behalf. There is no doubt he was found with his pants down. And there was, according to the coroner, some indication of sexual activity (semen on his leg), but did he instigate the conditions or was he instead lured into them?

Friends of jailer Allgood think the latter. They recall him as a racially prejudiced sort "who'd never go after a nigger unless he tempted him." Moreover, he was a substantial 200-pounder who, it's alleged, "could easily have handled a 100-pound woman even if she did take a swipe with an ice pick."

Finally, concerning that ice pick, the Allgood defense offers a point of more concrete implication: If Ms. Little did merely defend herself against rape, why was it necessary to stab the man 11 times until he expired?

Presumably these wonders and more will be adequately aired as the Little trial progresses. But Allgood's people feel the facts will receive little attention outside the courtroom. Says one of the dead man's family: "If we could raise $200,000, and if we could get all kinds of famous people in here on his (Allgood's) behalf, we might get the country to listen. Joan Little has proven this: You can get people in the country to believe anything if you tell them enough."

So it is there may be a greater issue on trial here in Raleigh. And that is whether justice is deaf as well as blind. One hopes so. If Ms. Little is innocent it must be because she did nothing legally wrong, not because she has a louder voice than the man she killed.

Diehards Still Fight Equality

WASHINGTON — "Forty-five years ago, a principal wearing a very high celluloid collar asked me to leave a high school because I had had the temerity to run on the racetrack with the boys," Rep. Gladys Spellman (D-Md.) told her colleagues last week.

"I had no choice," she explained, "if I wanted to run, I had to run with the boys, because there was no girls' track team."

The Congresswoman's bitter memory was part of an incredible debate in the House over the latest effort to perpetuate policies that discriminate against women and which entrenched males find it inconvenient or expensive to change.

At issue was an amendment that would have forbidden HEW to impose upon Federally aided schools and colleges a requirement that non-contact physical education classes and all honorary and professional societies be integrated by sex. It has been three years since Congress ruled that it would deny Federal funds to any college or school that discriminated on the basis of sex, forcing law and medical schools to admit women students in large numbers for the first time and schools everywhere to promote record numbers of female teachers, previously denied advancement.

Rep. Bob Casey (D-Tex.), who sponsored the amendment, declared it was "ridiculous" for women to expect to be admitted to professional organizations on the basis of their ability without regard to sex or have the same access to physical education facilities. He championed "the freedom of men or women to associate with one another as they wish." Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) said he just couldn't quite see a woman as a full-back on the Ohio State football team. The real resistance to doing the right thing, of course was not mentioned. It had to do with male fear and money. The schools simply don't want to spend as much money for female physical education as for male because they want to hoard every penny for male competitive sports, which have become more important to some schools than scholarship. Rep. Bella Abzug (D-N.Y.) reported that a policeman observed to her, "When my son goes out and does something noteworthy in sports he gets a trophy, and when my daughters do something they get nothing."

The world will not collapse if some high school somewhere can't provide new uniforms for its basketball team this year because it had to expand its gym facilities for integrated classes.

Rep. Millicent Fenwick (R-N.J.) eloquently summed up the case against school discrimination. "We use in the schools the beginning of that sense of being not quite equal, important, not quite that much of a whole person, not quite that much of an equal citizen in this nation," she said. "I believe we have got to stop doing this."

Yet, in the end, 178 male Congressmen voted to continue doing it.

Warning Shot Halts Suspect In St. Joseph

St. Joseph township police reported a resident fired a warning with a shotgun to hold a breaking and entering suspect at bay until officers arrived.

Police said the incident occurred at the home of Robert E. Lucker, 3806 South Cleveland avenue, who reported he was pulling into his driveway shortly after 10 p.m. Sunday and noticed a parked pickup truck and what appeared to be a screen missing from a window his house.

Lucker told officers he went to a neighbor's home to call police, and returned with the neighbor Robert M. DeVries, 3806 South Cleveland, who had the shotgun.

Lucker and DeVries said they then observed a man coming out of the Lucker house and ordered him to halt. Police said DeVries told them that he fired one shot when the man said he was leaving.

Booked at Berrien county jail on two charges of breaking and entering was Robert W. Christianson, 43, of 1109 Lake boulevard, St. Joseph.

Police said the second charge resulted from a reported break-in at the Dee Hickmott home, 344 Washington avenue, where Mrs. Karen Hickmott said six bottles of liquor had been stolen earlier Sunday.

Police said several bottles of liquor were confiscated from the pickup truck which was registered to Christianson.

Teachers Continue LMC Firing Fight

By JERRY KRIEGER
Farm and Features Editor

The Federation of Teachers union is continuing its fight in two courts against the 1973 mass firing of most of the Lake Michigan college faculty.

Atty. Gayle Boesky of Detroit said a petition for a rehearing was filed recently with the U.S. Sixth Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

The move for a rehearing followed a decision by the Cincinnati court early this month in favor of the college. The decision held the dismissal of the teachers in March 1973 when they refused to return from a strike did not violate their constitutional rights.

The teachers' union, represented by Atty. Bernard Felger and Atty. Boesky, in June filed a request for leave to appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court charges of unfair labor practices against the college.

The Michigan Court of Appeals ruled against the union in this matter in April of this year. Earlier, the Michigan Employment Relations commission also had ruled that the college was not guilty of unfair labor practices in the contract negotiations that had preceded the strike and the firing of the faculty.

The State Supreme Court can elect to hear or not to hear the appeal.

Atty. Boesky said the motion for a rehearing in the federal appellate court asks that entire bench of the court hear the case. The decision earlier this month holding the firing of the teachers without individual hearings was not a violation of the due process of law was made by a three-judge panel of the appellate court.

If the rehearing is denied, the union will have 90 days to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court if it wishes. The Supreme Court may elect to hear or not hear any such appeal. Atty. Boesky said no decision has been made whether the union will appeal to the Supreme Court. If the rehearing is rejected.

Atty. Robert Claus of Chicago, labor relations counsel for the college, has filed an answer to the appeal request on the unfair labor practice charge to the high state court.

In the rehearing motion on the federal court matter, the college does not respond unless asked to do so by the court, according to college officials.

Police Say Crash Ends Cycle Chase

A 16-year-old St. Joseph township boy was treated at Memorial hospital for injuries after an accident late Sunday night involving an allegedly stolen motorcycle, St. Joseph township police said.

Police said James K. Barnett, 3522 South Cleveland avenue, was turned over to his parents pending petitioning to juvenile court on a charge of unlawfully driving away a motor vehicle.

Police identified the owner of the motorcycle as Carroll Ott, 2982 Windsor drive, who told police he did not realize the cycle was missing.

The accident occurred behind a house on Grand View avenue when Barnett was knocked off the cycle by a clothesline after police said they chased him in their car for about 10 blocks. He was also cited for careless driving, police said.

In another accident, Benton Harbor police ticketed the driver of a car Sunday that hit a utility pole on Park street west of Fourth street and a passenger in the car was treated for minor injuries at Mercy hospital.

Police said Karen R. Gordon, 23, of 780 East Washington street, was issued a summons for careless driving after she said she made a turn off Fourth onto Park too wide and hit the pole. The injured passenger was identified as Lillian Richards, 23, of 357 South McCord street.

Promotions, Changes On News Staff Effective Today

Promotions and changes in executive responsibilities involving veteran members of The Herald-Palladium news staff were announced today by Bert Lindenfeld, managing editor.

James Shanahan moves up from the post of Benton Harbor city editor to city editor, in charge of local news gathering within the entire Twin Cities metropolitan area, including courts and Berrien county governmental activities.

Sports Editor James DeLand is leaving sports coverage for promotion to the newly-created post of assistant city editor.

John Vandenhede, a member of the sports staff since 1965, will become sports editor.

Jerry Krieger, county-farm editor, will become farm and local features editor, as well as assist the managing editor with special projects.

Duties of the St. Joseph city editor, a position held by Dick Derrick, will be consolidated under the new city desk lineup. Derrick will remain in the St. Joseph office temporarily as a staff writer but gradually shift much of his activity to his first love, photography.

Lindenfeld explained that the staff changes are a "logical follow-up" to last February's merger of the St. Joseph Herald-Press and the Benton Harbor News-Palladium into one newspaper, the present Herald-Palladium.

"Consolidation of control makes possible more efficient use of the man and woman power of our news staff," said Lindenfeld.

The changes in duties are effective today.

City Editor Shanahan, 48, was born in Lawton and grew up in Decatur, Mich., and graduated from Decatur high school in 1944. He served in the U.S. Navy in 1945-46, then attended and graduated from the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University. He joined this newspaper in 1950 and was sports editor before becoming Benton Harbor city editor. He and his wife, Kate, have three grown children. The Shanahans resided in Benton Harbor until last May when they moved to Columbia.

Assistant City Editor DeLand, 41, is a native of Detroit, where he graduated from Mackenzie high school. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1956 and joined the staff of the then Benton Harbor News-Palladium. He stayed until 1962, except for two years army duty, then joined Ford Motor Company as a public relations specialist. But he returned here only a little more than a year later, to become sports editor. He has two children and a stepson. He and his wife, Janet, reside in St. Joseph.

Farm and Features Editor Krieger, 58, is well known in Southwestern Michigan not only as a newsmen but also in Sochi, where he resides. He was born in Stevensville and graduated from St. Joseph Catholic high school in 1934 and from Michigan State University, with a degree in journalism, in 1938.

He joined the St. Joseph Herald-Press in 1939, then took leave and a half years out for service with the U. S. Air Force, two years in China. He returned to this newspaper immediately after World War II. He and his wife Glenadean have four grown children.

John Vandenhede, the new sports editor, was born in Marshall, Mich., and graduated from Marshall high school in 1956. He graduated in journalism from Michigan State University in 1960 and joined the Niles Daily Star as sports editor.

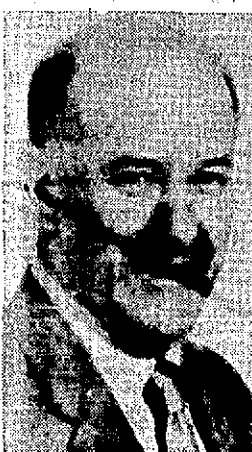

With two years out for U. S. Army service, Vandenhede stayed with the Niles Star from 1960 until 1966 when he joined the sports staff of this newspaper. He has also served as conservation editor and will continue to do so, at least for the time being. He and his wife, Lucy, have two children and reside in Niles.

Segovia Given Degree

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Classical guitarist Andres Segovia, 81, has received the first honorary doctor of fine arts degree awarded by the North Carolina School of the Arts.

The citation honored Segovia for "his life-long contributions throughout the world to the arts and his universal acclaim in the field of classical guitar."

The convocation program included "Reminiscences of Maestro Segovia," a tribute by Jesus Silva, who studied with Segovia and is an instructor of classical guitar at the school. Three advanced guitar students played works by Manuel M. Ponce and Isaac Albeniz.

Segovia, who has been playing the guitar since he was 10, is credited with being the first person to consider the guitar a serious instrument. He has spent his life establishing a quality repertoire for the guitar and performing.

Decorating Trends

BY MIKE IANNELLI

A BRIDGE OVER TROUBLED WATERS may not seem to have much to do with home decor, but it does lead us to the most popular and its popularity, home with other games. And the troubled decorating waters are often result.

If cards, bridge or other games are not part of your living room, you have no problem here. But if they are, there's a good chance that this is a neglected area of your home furnishings plans.

When you play games, from poker to bridge to Scrabble, frequently, either in the family or with friends, you'll find those evenings are much happier when you have a special setting for them, not just a table you fold up and stick in a closet somewhere, then drop out and set up while someone looks for enough chairs.

A handsome game table can be an effective focal point for a family room, or an area of the living room. Make sure the chairs are comfortable for long sessions, and the table large enough for your usual group.

The moral is: keep your way of life and habits at the front of your mind when planning your furnishings. And whatever your needs, you'll find that we can help with advice and with the fine furnishings made by famous manufacturers that you'll own and use with pride.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

A Greeting With A Zing

Dear Ann Landers: Every now and then, a woman writes to complain about her husband bringing home unexpected dinner guests. Usually it's a guy from out of town who just happened to be in his office.

My next-door neighbor read a book recently that gave the perfect solution. It suggested that women who want to pump excitement into a lackluster marriage should greet their husbands at the door wearing nothing but high heels and a string of beads. Or they might wrap themselves in plastic sheeting and tie a large red satin ribbon around "the package."

Any wife who pulls one of those stunts will never again have the problem of an unexpected dinner guest. Sign me — Positive.

Dear Pos: A unique solution, to say the least. Did the book by any chance mention what to do with the children when Mummy does her burlesque numbers?

Kid Needs Help

Dear Ann Landers: I have been putting off writing this letter since November, but after

ANN LANDERS

But you must let them know you want help. Get moving, and good luck, Son.

Hot Temper

Dear Ann: I'm engaged to a fine guy who has a hot temper. He has a habit of hitting or kicking things when he gets angry.

Last week when his baseball team lost, he socked the wall of the stadium and sprained his wrist. Today a motorist cut him off and he knocked his knee on the dashboard and it bled.

What's his problem? Any advice? — Love Him

Dear Love: That "fine guy" is grossly immature. He handles frustration like a ten-year-old. My advice to him is to get some counseling and learn how to handle anger. My advice to you is stay out of his way until he grows up.

"Sexual freedom" presents a difficult decision for teenagers and their parents. Ann Landers offers down-to-earth advice in her new booklet, "High School Sex And How To Deal With It — A Guide For Teens And Their Parents." For each booklet, send 50 cents in coin plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Dr. Lester Coleman

When should a deviated septum be operated on?

Mr. L.F. III

Dear Mr. F.: The nasal septum that divides one side of the nose from the other is composed of bone and cartilage.

Nose and throat specialists agree that they rarely see a completely straight nasal septum. There is some deviation to one side or the other.

These deviations most often are due to some developmental change that occurs before birth. Occasionally, fractures of the nose will also include fracture, or displacement, of the septum. The "submucous resection" of the nasal septum is the operation designed to straighten the septum. It is a very effective operation when it is done for a very specific purpose.

When the deviation of the septum blocks the free flow of air to one or both sides of the nose surgery is recommended.

When the deviation of the septum impinges on the turbinate bones (vital structures within the nose) surgery is also suggested.

A deviation alone is not the only indication for surgery. When that deviation of the septum is responsible for nasal symptoms or discomfort the operation is performed.

Ask the Jacobys

A letter from St. Paul reads in part: "I opened one club. My partner responded one spade. What should I rebid with?"

AKQ94 ♥ X X ♦ A X X
AK10 X X ♥

The correct rebid is a raise to two spades. You only have three spades, but your alternate bids are all unsatisfactory. If your partner has four spades and a bad hand two spades should be a reasonable contract. If he has a good hand and only four spades he will probably find some other bid than a jump to the spade game.

In particular you should avoid a one notrump rebid with that worthless doubleton in hearts.

Eau Claire Library Club Has Election

EAU CLAIRE — Eau Claire Library club has re-elected Mrs. Jack Adams as club president.

Members of the hospitality committee are Mrs. Dustin, chairman; Mrs. Kremmers and Mrs. Harold Bishop.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Jim: "How about some articles on the Blackwood convention."

Oswald: "In its original and simplest form as invented by Easy Blackwood over forty years ago, it provides that a kind of four notrump demands that partner respond to show aces. Five clubs shows none, five diamonds one, five hearts two, five spades three and five notrump all four."

Jim: "In the last twenty years the five-club response shows zero or four aces and five notrump is not used. It is assumed that a player can tell whether his partner holds four or none."

Oswald: "North has a perfect Blackwood response to South's spade opening. He plans to bid seven if South shows three aces, six if he shows two and five if he shows one."

Jim: "Suppose he shows no aces?"

Market Tips

When you purchase ears of that luscious green-husked sweet corn, do store it promptly in the refrigerator to prevent its losing sweetness.

Put it in a film bag, tuck in a wet paper towel or hold the corn (still in the husks) under the cold water faucet before bagging and refrigerating it, to help keep it nice and tender and sweet. Corn sugars change to starch rapidly at warm temperatures.

Tuna is a popular summertime and anytime favorite — and you'll probably be seeing some specials all summer long.

When stores feature canned tuna in vegetable oil, especially, take advantage of the sales. Stock up a few extra cans for summer salads, sandwiches or casseroles.

Looking for something different to serve the family? How about stir fried lettuce?

It's a pleasant change adopted from the Chinese. Fry and crumble some bacon and then brown some sesame seeds in the drippings. Add coarsely chopped or shredded lettuce and a diced onion. Stir-fry in the skillet until just crisp-tender — about two to five minutes — and then serve as a hot, and different vegetable.

Soup in summer turns many folks off completely, but many people have begun talking about and serving cold soups.

One tangy one that's perfect on the hottest days is an interesting tomato soup, served chilled.

Start with well seasoned tomato (or vegetable juice combinations), and some grated onion, a dash of horseradish, and then mix with plain yogurt. Sip with sandwiches, salad or crackers as a quick pick-me-up or serve at the fanciest of gourmet summer hot day luncheons or dinners.

Can a child who has had his spleen removed live a normal life?

Mrs. T.J. Tex.

Dear Mrs. J.: It is remarkable that such a large and important organ like the spleen can be removed without permanently affecting the longevity of an individual.

The spleen is sometimes removed to control severe bleeding tendencies such as in hemophilia and for other types of anemia.

Sometimes, following an injury, the spleen can be ruptured and must be removed as an emergency procedure.

When the spleen is removed, there are other parts of the body that take over its functions. The liver, the marrow of the long bones and the sternum (chest bone) takes over the function of manufacturing blood cells and even of destroying them when they have exhausted their function.

People who have had their spleens removed can live a normal life.

To Aid Serious Music

NEW YORK (AP) — To help make serious music by living American composers more widely available through recordings and printed scores, the Ford Foundation has announced a second recording publication program. A total of $400,000 has been allocated for it over the next three years.

The foundation will contract with record companies to provide up to $15,000 per LP for the cost of musical talent during recording time. The record companies will pay technical, production, advertising and distribution costs of the recordings and publishers will pay for printing and marketing the scores of the recorded works.

HALLELUJAH!

For all the rest of his life Sam Smith, farmer, would remember Easter Saturday, March 24, 1951, as the day it rained.

To a Texas farmer, drought is his most merciless enemy. Surely it is the most sinister. Unlike other natural perils — tornado, hail storm, brush fire — the drought does its evil by degrees. It tortures the earth bit by bit, inexorably, so that the farmer can never tell the exact day the cottonwood tree died, the precise hour the stock tank went dry, the specific moment the crack opened in his pasture wide enough to swallow a calf. In a long drought, the death of the earth is agonizingly slow and painful.

By the spring of 1951, Texans have endured seven years of drought. Seven years of watching crops die aborning, cattle die, wells go dry, seven years of watching great dust clouds lift on the hot afternoon breeze and turn the setting sun into a mocking sky of fire from horizon to horizon, day after day. This spring even the deep-rooted oaks are giving up the struggle, withholding their leaf buds for the first time in memory as every day for a solid month the temperature goes over 100 degrees without a drop of rain.

And on Easter Saturday...

As the rain begins, the excitement in the newsroom of the San Antonio Light is as unrestrained as on the outlying farms. Reporters, editors, deskmen, secretaries rush to the windows to watch. Harvey Delgin, photographer, gets in his car and heads for the vegetable belt southwest of the city, where the fields are most severely parched. Along the way, he sees children playing delightedly in mud puddles, men and women running around joyously in their yards. Then he sees Sam Smith standing next to his fence, standing in the rain, rejoicing. Harvey Delgin gets out of his car and shoots two pictures. Usually he shoots at least a half dozen to assure a good selection. "I don't know why I even bothered to shoot the second one," he says later. "I knew I had what I wanted when I saw the old man through the viewfinder. The rain meant life to him and his face showed it. I said, 'Well, that's it,' and went back to the office."

Astronauts Ordered Into Seclusion

HONOLULU (AP) — The three Apollo astronauts, their lungs still congested from inhaling rocket fuel fumes, face a 10-day period of seclusion here because they are vulnerable to infections.

Doctors said Sunday they plan to release Thomas Stafford, Donald Slayton and Vance Brand from Tripler Army Hospital on Tuesday, then place them in "semi-isolation." Their wives were to fly here from the Houston area after it was decided exactly where the astronauts would be kept.

The isolation period — which had not been mentioned by the doctors until Sunday — is intended to keep the astronauts away from other people, who might expose them to germs that would not harm a healthy person.

Dr. Peter Bartelloni, chief of medicine at the hospital, said the toxic gas the crewmen breathed last Thursday has disabled lung cells that normally fight infections.

Originally, the men were to have been flown home as soon as they were discharged. It was decided to keep them in Hawaii, said Bartelloni, for several reasons: so that treatment can be continued by the same doctors; to avoid the long, tiring flight to Houston; and because seclusion would be easier to arrange here.

Bartelloni and Apollo crew surgeon Dr. Arnauld Nicogossian seemed slightly less satisfied than the previous day about the crewmen's response to treatment. Although the irritation in Slayton's lungs has been progressively clearing, the improvement in the lungs of the other two has practically stopped, Bartelloni said.

They still cough when asked to breathe deeply, he said. And although the men feel very well, "they could be feeling better than they actually are" because of the steroid drugs they are taking, he added.

Asked if he was confident of their complete recovery, Bartelloni replied: "There is nothing to lead me to believe otherwise. I am optimistic. I can't go any farther than that."

Both doctors agreed that the extensive precautions were not being taken just because the men are astronauts. Bartelloni said the same would be done for firemen hospitalized for smoke inhalation.

Tests were still in progress in Houston to determine exactly what fumes the astronauts breathed as they were returning to earth from the joint U.-S. Soviet space mission.

The brownish gas caused 10 men to cough and put on oxygen masks and after the spacecraft landed, Brand passed out for minutes.

Nicogossian said it was still believed that the fumes were from the steering rocket motor and contained nitrogen tetroxide and monomethyl hydrazine.

Census Bureau Reports Mixed Gains For Blacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Black-white mixed progress during the past year, gaining in college enrollments but losing ground in actual spending power, a Census Bureau report says.

The report, released Sunday, also said that about 40 per cent of all food stamp purchases were made by black families during at least a portion of 1974.

In addition, the number of black families headed by women has continued to grow, rising to 35 per cent this year from 28 per cent in 1970.

The report, the eighth and most extensive in an annual series on the nation's black population, said enrollment of blacks in colleges increased 56 per cent during the 1970's, compared with an increase of 25 per cent for whites.

But while the median black family income in 1974 was $7,800, an increase of 7.4 per cent over 1973, real spending power, after adjustment for inflation, for black families decreased by 3.2 per cent.

Other findings in the report included:

—There has been a slowdown in the growth of black population to 1.6 per cent compared with 1.8 per cent annual growth during the 1960's. The total black population of 24 million last year was 11.4 per cent of the total U.S. population of 211 million.

—Reversing the trend of past decades, the black population in the South stabilized at about 53 per cent, with as many blacks moving into the area as moved out.

—The jobless rate for blacks was 13.7 per cent, compared with 7.6 per cent for whites.

—Blacks holding elective office totaled 3,303 in May of this year, an increase of 1,643, or 88 per cent in four years, although the total was still less than 1 per cent of all elected officials. Illinois and Louisiana have the largest number of black elected officials.

Blacks in jail during 1972 the last year for which figures were available - numbered 59,000, which was 42 per cent of the total jail population of 142,000.

Life expectancy for blacks still trailed that of whites; but there was a "striking reduction" in black mortality rates under one year, with the death rate for infants declining 19 per cent for males and 16 per cent for females, the report said. Among blacks, the average life expectancy in 1973 was 61.9 years for males and 70.1 years for females, compared with 68.4 years for white males and 76.1 years for white females.

Ford Beginning Talks With Reds

BONN, West Germany (AP) — President Ford, refreshed by a Rhine river cruise, flew to Poland today for the first of a series of meetings with East European Communist leaders.

Ford was flying to Warsaw after talks with West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt that focused chiefly on Western economic ills, and a symbolic visit to American and German troops at a remote outpost known to those stationed there as "the Rock."

Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger held a final session with Schmidt and German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher over breakfast today at Gynnich Castle.

The breakfast was considerably delayed, however, when Schmidt's helicopter had to turn back halfway between Bonn and Gynnich because of thick fog. His party waited for limousines to pick them up before continuing on their way to meet Ford.

The presidential visit to West Germany was capped Sunday night by a three-hour state dinner aboard a Rhine cruise ship that passed the peak where, according to legend, Siegfried slew the dragon — a local tale like that of David and Goliath.

Hardly noted, with overcast skies almost obscuring a nearly full moon, were the pilings of the destroyed bridge at Remagen, a strategic objective that American forces seized from Hitler's legions near the end of World War II.

Ironically, one stop scheduled for the President and Mrs. Ford in Warsaw was the reconstructed Old Town section destroyed principally by the Nazis in that same war.

Wars past did not figure in Ford's two-night stay in Bonn, however. He and Schmidt and advisors, including Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, talked chiefly about cooperation to end a deep economic slump embracing virtually all the non-Communist developed countries.

Following a meeting that ran 30 minutes beyond the time allotted, Ford told newsmen: "The chancellor and I agreed that it was vitally important that the economic policies of Germany and the European community be integrated with our own economic policies."

Schmidt said the subject would be pursued at a meeting in Helsinki, Finland, following Ford's stop in Poland. Ford, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and French President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing.

Heads of 35 governments, including Soviet leader Leonid

I. Brezhnev, will gather in Helsinki to sign a nonbinding statement of principles intended to guide their conduct toward each other and, to some extent, toward their own citizens.

Ford has come under some criticism at home for willingness to sign an agreement regarded in some quarters as tacitly accepting Soviet dominance in eastern Europe.

Two 'Walkaways' Captured In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Two men walked away from the Detroit House of Corrections (Dehoco) early Sunday and a third broke out of a high-security area, authorities said. The walkaways were caught.

Authorities said Lawrence Edward Carter, 21, apparently broke out a barred window with the help of a wooden two-by-four to make his escape. He still was sought early this morning.

He was serving 90 days for assault and batter.

Authorities said the last time anyone broke out of a block at Dehoco was two years ago. Carter has escaped from three jails in the past three years, said Dehoco Inspector Edwin Olszewski.

Robert Johnson, 22, of Inkster and David Harris, 23, of Detroit were apprehended by a Chesapeake & Ohio railway detective shortly after they walked away from the minimum security Dehoco farm, officials said.

CRASH KILLS FIVE: Wreckage of a U.S. Air Force C130 Hercules transport plane which crashed in Lapeer County near Imlay City, in Lapeer County, Mich., Saturday. An Air Force spokesman said five of the six reservists were killed in the crash and the survivor is in critical condition at the University of Michigan's burn center in Ann Arbor. The four-engine plane was on a routine training mission from Selfridge AFB when it crashed about 6:35 p.m. (AP Wirephoto)

Five Killed In Lapeer Air Crash

LAPEER, Mich. (AP) — A four-engine Air Force cargo plane with six reservists aboard crashed on a training mission in Michigan's Thumb Saturday, killing five and leaving the sixth man critically injured.

The five victims were charred beyond recognition, said a spokesman at Selfridge Air National Guard Base near Mount Clemens, where the flight began. The dead were identified through flight records.

Air Force officials said that just before the C130 plane crashed it was flying purposely low as part of a training exercise designed to prepare the crew to avoid radar detection or enemy fire.

The lone survivor, Staff Sgt. Christopher J. Belanger, 24, of Pontiac, was taken to University Hospital in Ann Arbor, where he was listed in critical condition with burns over 90 per cent of his body. He is an auto mechanic at the GM Technical Center in Warren.

Air Force officials said the victims were: Lt. Col. Hugh Graham, 44, of Rochester, Mich., a Birmingham school teacher; pilot Capt. Laird E. Simpson, 35, of Minneapolis, Minn., a Federal Aviation Administration flight examiner; Lt. Phillip C. Molina, 26, of Midland, Mich., a Dow Chemical Co. chemical engineer; Sgt. Edward E. McNeil Jr., 31, of Mount Clemens, a full-time flight engineer for the Air Force Reserve; and Sgt. William F. Lang, 29, of Erie, Mich., who was an insurance representative.

Gen. Roy M. Marshall, commander of the 403rd Tactical Airlift Wing at Selfridge, said all crewmen in the 403rd are former Air Force members who continue to train as reservists to keep their flying skills sharp.

Selfridge authorities said a board of officers was dispatched to the scene Sunday to determine the exact cause of the crash, believed to be the result of an engine failure on the C130.

Officials said the 61,000-pound, four-engine prop craft was flying at 500 feet in formation with other planes when it crashed at about 6:30 p.m. Saturday in an empty field about three miles east of Imlay City.

Witnesses said the plane was flying over tree tops when one of its wings appeared to hit a tree. The craft then hit the ground, burst into flames and skidded about an eighth of a mile.

The plane burned out of control for more than 90 minutes.

There were scattered reports that parts of one of the engines dropped off the craft before it crashed.

Gen. Marshall said the C130 is nicknamed "the workhorse of the Air Force" and is used in combat zone transport.

"It is very necessary for us to go in at levels low enough to avoid missile sites, enemy radar, ground fire, and so on," Marshall said.

"Therefore, it's necessary for our crews to maintain a high level of efficiency at very low-level navigation," he added.

Common Cause Says Letter A 'Phony'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Common Cause says an official-looking letter mailed to state senators claiming Michigan's reform bill would benefit Democrats more than Republicans seems to be a phony.

Douglas Ross, secretary of the Michigan chapter of the citizen lobby group, called the letter "a clever and calculating use of deceit to try to kill a political reform bill in the state Senate."

Ross said the letter, labeled "confidential," carried a House of Representatives letterhead and a typed signature that read "Common Cause caucus."

He said the letter was received several days ago by a number of Democratic state senators.

Ross said there is no such thing as a "Common Cause caucus."

He said the letter apparently was sent by someone who has access to House stationery and to the Senate's interdepartment mail system.

The phony letter calls for quick passage of the political reform bill and implies the legislation is a combined effort of the Democratic party and organized labor.

The bill — already approved in the House — has bipartisan Senate support.

The letter — found in Senate mailboxes on Friday — has not yet been brought to the attention of Gov. William Milliken. However, a spokesman for the Republican governor said the Milliken would disavow any suggestion that the bill is a Democratic-labor measure.

Titled "a memo to Democratic Senators," the letter said many provisions in the bill would hurt Republicans far more than Democrats.

Ross said the letter could hurt chances of the bill's passage if it is accepted by any senator as being legitimate.

One candymaker claims "this is where the President bought fudge," while another brags, "this is the fudge he eats."

There are 10 fudge stores on the island, selling more than 400,000 pounds annually to tourists, or presidents.

During a casual after-church stroll earlier this month, President Ford stopped at one fudge shop called May's Store and bought some fudge.

But another candymaker, Harry Ryba, provided fudge for the governor's island executive mansion, where the President was an overnight guest.

Ryba opened his first fudge shop on the island in 1960. On request, he sent 18 pounds of fudge to the governor's mansion for the presidential visit.

Ryba's shop was bypassed on President Ford's stroll, however, because it was on the wrong side of the street.

Most candymen have stores on both sides of the street to catch tourists or presidents coming and going.

U.S. Has Plan For Ailing Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal planning agency recommended today that the government consolidate seven financially ailing northeastern railroads into one 15,000-mile system in the biggest corporate reorganization in American history.

For the traveling public, the plan is called for the creation of a all-passenger railroad line between New York City and Washington and for improved passenger train service on 16 other routes.

In the report, the U.S. Railway Association told Congress that 5,700 miles of lightly used track now owned by the railroads in the 17 states they serve should be abandoned or subsidized with federal-state funds. That track carries about 2 per cent of all traffic on the seven railroads.

The plan also recommended that the remaining 2,000-plus miles of track be sold to privately owned railroads to allow those carriers to extend their lines and create competition for the proposed new railroad in all major cities in the affected region.

The USRA program was developed after months of public hearings, preliminary reports and recommendations by various government agencies. Congress has 60 working days to accept or reject the plan. If Congress does nothing, the program automatically goes into effect.

The backbone of the proposed new railroad, known as ConRail, would be the Penn Central. Other railroads to be included in the reorganization are the Erie Lackawanna, the Reading, the Central of New Jersey, the Lehigh Valley, the Lehigh and Hudson River and the Ann Arbor.

If approved by Congress, the USRA plan would set up a rail system extending across America's manufacturing heartland from the Atlantic Ocean to the Mississippi River. The 17 states directly affected by the plan contain 58 per cent of all manufacturing plants in the country and they also are major producers of coal and manufacturers of steel.

The cost of the reorganization will be tremendous. Much of the track and equipment that will form the new railroad has not been adequately maintained for many years and is badly deteriorated.

The USRA predicted ConRail would be a viable railroad but said it would not make a profit until its fourth year of operation. It said ConRail would lose $32 million in its first year of operations, primarily because of the poor condition of the rail properties.

It said the losses would diminish in 1977 and 1978 as a modernization and rehabilitation program began to improve operating efficiencies and that ConRail would make a profit of $38 million in 1979.

If the plan is rejected, USRA, the Department of Transportation and the Rail Services Planning Office of the Interstate Commerce Commission will confer and make necessary changes. The plan then would be resubmitted to Congress for a second look.

The USRA proposed spending $4.2 billion over a 10-year period to rehabilitate the track and equipment. It also proposed a $1.78-billion spending program to enable the proposed railroad to purchase new locomotives and freight cars.

The spending program would be financed by a government investment of $1.35 billion in the new rail system. The USRA also recommended that Congress set up a $650 million contingency fund to help the new railroad if it should have financial problems.

The proposed government assistance needed for the successful formation of the new railroad is more than double the amount already authorized by Congress. Congress, in passing the reorganization act in 1973, agreed to make available to ConRail $1 billion in government guaranteed loans to help set up the corporation and allow it to start rehabilitation work.

About 2,000 miles of the track now owned by the Erie Lackawanna and the Reading would be sold to the Chessie System to create competition for ConRail in major East Coast cities. Several other railroads would pick up other sections of track now owned by the seven carriers.

DEFY EPISCOPAL TRADITION Women Priests Want Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the women who defied Episcopal tradition by being ordained priests hope to be brought to ecclesiastical trial, says the priest who allowed some of them to celebrate Holy Communion at his church.

Six of the 11 women ordained in a disputed ceremony last year in Philadelphia marked the first anniversary of the event in a joint celebration Sunday at St. Stephen and the Incarnation Church. Five of the women celebrated Holy Communion and one performed a baptism.

"Hopefully, a presentment could be made against the women," the Rev. William A. Wendt, rector of St. Stephen, said in an interview Sunday night. "They have been ignored. They should have been on trial all along but the Church and the bishops stepped around that one very carefully. If they came to trial, it could all hang out. They want to go to trial. Their lawyers want to go to trial," he said.

But, he added, "I doubt if the bishops and clergy will ever let them come to trial. Then they'd have to recognize them."

The Rev. Mr. Wendt was found guilty last month by a special ecclesiastical court of disobeying his bishop by permitting one of the women, the Rev. Allison Cheek of Annandale, Va., to celebrate Holy Communion in his church.

The Rev. Mr. Wendt was reprimanded and is appealing the decision. He said he does not know if Sunday's service will bring any further disciplinary action against him or the women.

When he allowed the Rev. Cheek to celebrate Holy Communion last November, the Rev. Mr. Wendt did so in defiance of a directive from his bishop, the Rt. Rev. William Creighton of Washington. The bishop, who is vacationing in Maine, was informed before Sunday's ceremony, but he made no response, the Rev. Mr. Wendt said. The bishop could not be located later for comment.

Episcopal law does not expressly forbid women to be priests, but the church's governing body has not approved it. Opponents have balked at allowing female ordinations basically because Jesus and all his apostles were men.

At Sunday's ceremony, a congregation of about 400, mostly women, surrounded a patchwork-covered communion table and received bread and wine from five of the female priests, dressed in brightly colored vestments.

Celebrating communion along with the Rev. Cheek were the Revs. Merrill Blitzer of Rochester, N.Y.; Carle Heywood of New York City; Suzanne Hutt of Philadelphia and Jeanette Piccard of Minneapolis.

The Rev. Betty Schells of Syracuse, N.Y., performed a baptism during the service but did not celebrate Holy Communion, saying she preferred to do it first in her own church.

FCC DECISION

WASHINGTON (AP) — The thorny question of whether scarce educational TV and radio channels are being monopolized by religious groups is expected to be decided this week by the Federal Communications Commission.

Boat Blast At Muskegon Injures Four

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — An explosion literally blew people out of a 40-foot cabin cruiser Saturday, and two others jumped into Muskegon Lake to escape the raging fire as the vessel burst into flames.

All four — three members of a

Cincinnati, Ohio, family and a Muskegon mechanic — were injured, Muskegon County deputies said.

The cruiser Antique, out of Cincinnati, was undergoing repairs to correct a fuel pump problem when the explosion occurred on the south side of the lake not far from the Muskegon Yacht Club.

"You had two people thrown completely out over the rails and into the water" by the force of the explosion, said Sgt. William Bayne, of the marine division of the Muskegon County Sheriff's Department. He said the other two had to jump overboard.

Bayne said the four were fished out of the water by the sheriff's department's 28-foot boat nine minutes after the explosion and were taken to Mercy Hospital.

Wilson Brumleve, 60, a Cincinnati, Ohio, attorney who owns the cruiser, suffered burns in both legs and a torn tendon, authorities said. His wife, Helen, 48, was burned on the left hand and left leg. Their nephew, Gregory Meyer, 23, also of Cincinnati, received a broken leg.

Mechanic Jack Davis, 41, suffered a broken arm and fractures in both legs.

Bayne said efforts by his department and the U.S. Coast Guard to extinguish the fire were unsuccessful.

"We tried to put it out but the heat was too intense," he said. "The Coast Guard had three hoses going and it never even affected it." Finally the boat was put in tow and dragged through the lake to put out the fire, he said.

Bayne said the cabin cruiser had been docked at the yacht club and the mechanic suggested taking it out into the lake, which is connected by a channel to Lake Michigan, to do the repairs because of the danger inherent in working on the fuel line.

'Missing Plane' Never Took Off

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. Coast Guard officials said today their search for a light plane carrying two persons to Canada was cancelled after officials learned the plane never took off.

U.S. and Canadian authorities had been searching since Saturday for a single-engine plane carrying Dr. Forbes Hogan, a cardiologist from Garden City, and an unidentified person. The pair failed to arrive in Toronto after filing a flight plan for that destination.

The Coast Guard said Hogan cancelled his flight, but the cancellation was not recorded properly, causing the bogus search.

Officials said Hogan was to have left from Willow Run Airport near Ypsilanti, rather than the St. Clair County Airport as reported earlier.

Wallendas Out To Break Detroit Jinx

DETROIT (AP) — The famous, high-wire flying Wallenda family returns to Detroit this summer with hopes of overcoming a Motor City jinx that marred two previous visits and ended in tragic accidents.

At the 1962 Detroit Shrine circus, the family's seven-person human pyramid collapsed, killing two members and leaving one paralyzed.

In 1972, the last time they were in the Motor City, family patriarch Karl Wallenda, fell down a hand rope at the end of his act and broke his heel. The 70-year-old Wallenda says he hopes to be remembered in the Motor City this time for his troupe's success.

The family will appear Aug. 22 on opening day at the Michigan State Fair, where Wallenda will attempt his first Detroit long-distance skywalk on a lofty 700-foot long steel cable.

Wallenda says Detroit has been a jinx and a place of disaster for him in the past. But he added: "Before retiring, I want to replace that tragic story of 1962 in people's minds with a great and spectacular success here in Michigan. I want people to remember me for a success, not an accident."

$7,000 Boat Tops Thefts

Nine thefts were reported to Twin City area police over the weekend including an 18-foot boat and trailer valued at slightly more than $7,000.

Michael Cupp, Stevensville, told Berrien sheriff's deputies the blue boat with an inboard engine was on a trailer parked in front of a garage at 5221 St. Joseph avenue. He said the boat had Michigan registration and the trailer had a Florida license plate.

Deputies also investigated the theft of record albums, valued at between $150 and $250, from a room at the Snow Flake motel, 3822 Red Arrow highway. Karen M. Massie, of Xenia, Ohio, reported the theft.

Six thefts were reported to Benton Harbor police including: —A stereo and tape player, valued at $200, from the home of Eva M. Walker, 834 Pavone street.

—A tape player, valued at $150, from the home of Pam Bradley, 304 South Fair avenue. —A portable television, valued at $130, stolen from the apartment of Diane Young, 316 Culby street.

—A shotgun, valued at $91, from the residence of Lavinia Greer, 526 East Main street.

—A .22 caliber revolver, valued at $84, from the home of Laura M. Kelly, 140 Benton street.

—Six basketballs and a pair of binoculars, from Matthew's St. Lutheran school, 671 McAllister avenue.

Frank Nemethy, 2647 Niles avenue, told St. Joseph township police a 10-horsepower outboard motor and 25 gallons of gasoline, valued at slightly more than $200, was stolen from his boat docked at Whispering Willows marina, 2383 Niles avenue.

A Benton township woman told township police her screams apparently frightened away a youth who stopped her and grabbed her purse while she was riding a bicycle on a path off Empire avenue and Dixie drive Sunday evening.

Allene Brunson, 26, of 1200 East Empire avenue, said the youth, also on a bicycle, stopped to ask directions, then grabbed the rear tire of her bicycle and rummaged through her purse. She said he found no money and fled after she began screaming. Police said the woman did not require medical treatment.

Police searched the area shortly after the incident, but were unable to locate the suspect, whom she described as black, about 17 years old and wearing a dirty short-sleeved shirt and yellow checked pants.

State police of the Benton Harbor post arrested a Flint man on charges of carrying a concealed weapon, violation of the controlled substance act and possession of open intoxicants in a motor vehicle.

Booked at Berrien county jail was Matthew V. Brantley, 22. Troopers said he was a passenger in a car driven by Eddie J. Lowe, Sr., 35, also of Flint, who was ticketed for transporting open intoxicants in a motor vehicle when a car was stopped Sunday night on I-94 in St. Joseph township.

Troopers a .38 caliber revolver, a suspected marijuana cigarette and 10 blank Michigan motor vehicle forms were confiscated.

Benton Harbor police said a woman was arrested Saturday afternoon, after a butcher knife was found in her purse, during an investigation by officers at the Harbor hotel, 200 Territorial road. Police said another woman called to report being threatened after an argument.

Arrested was Jacqueline Johnson, 26, of 136½ Territorial road, Benton Harbor. She was booked on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Oliver Barber, 18, of 234 Jefferson street, Benton Harbor, was booked early Sunday on a charge of disorderly gambling, after city police encountered an alleged dice game in a lot off Territorial road, near Sixth street. Police said several others present fled on foot and escaped.

A Benton township man was arrested Saturday night by state police of the Benton Harbor post on charges of driving under the influence of liquor and possession of gambling equipment.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was Robert E. Yates, 34, of 822 Highland avenue.

Police said Yates' car was stopped about 11 p.m. at M-130 and Nickerson avenue and police confiscated alleged policy betting slips, policy result slips and a book with many telephone numbers.

TIMBERRR! It was a bad day for Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Schenck of Mercer Island, Wash., whose house was cut in two by a 100-foot-tall Douglas Fir tree. The tree had been worrying Schenck for some time, and he thought he'd have it cut down before a storm toppled it. One of the men who cut the tree Saturday had to be treated for mild shock. A spokesman for the tree-cutting company said the firm was still trying to figure out what went wrong. (AP Wirephoto)

Lawmakers Try To Clear Decks For Budget Battle

By PETE YOST
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Lawmakers, still drafting the $3 billion state budget, this week must also tackle deadlocked teacher strike legislation and the governor's $175 million mass transit proposal.

Michigan has been without a budget since July 1 and the government is operating on an extension of last year's fiscal plan.

The measure allowing limited school strikes of up to four weeks will be the focus of discussion during the week between the staffs of Gov. William Milliken and House Speaker Bobby Crim, D-Detroit.

Crim contends the bill was changed by the Senate to favor school boards and Milliken vows to veto it because it is too easy on teachers by permitting strikes of up to two weeks without penalty.

Many lawmakers predict school strike legislation will not be completed before summer recess.

The House also is expected to return to the Senate an altered version of Milliken's $175 million bonding proposal to help fund public transportation in Michigan.

The House plan is to borrow $30 million this year from the state highway fund and delay the starting date for sale of $150 million in bonds to next year.

About 50 percent of the bonding money and about half the $30 million borrowed from the highway fund would go to seven counties in southeastern Michigan.

It is expected to draw nearly $700 million in federal aid for buses, trains and a subway for Detroit.

Action on most of the $3 billion budget has been delayed by the other major issues before the legislature. An amended revision of the state business taxes was approved in the Senate on Friday and is to go back to the House before heading for conference committee.

The Senate Elections and Municipalities Committee is slated to work on a House-passed political reform bill. Legislative leaders are committed to final passage of that bill before summer recess.

The committee intended to begin work on the bill last week, but was stalled when the Senate cragaged in the lengthy tax debate.

Senate Majority Leader William Fitzgerald said would take "several days and several caucuses" to wade through an explanation of the bill and dozens of amendments waiting for it. The legislative process has ground nearly to a halt in the past few weeks as the two parties repeatedly huddled behind closed doors to discuss tactics.

The business tax revision is expected to go to conference committee early this week.

FOR POLICE

LMC Offering Refresher Class

Lake Michigan college again has been selected to hold a one-day refresher training course for area police officers who are associated with the operation of the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) system.

The training system — the fifth conducted at LMC — will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 9, in room D-118 on the college's Napier avenue campus.

One of the purposes of the course is to review current LEIN procedures and formats relative to the use of all computer systems presently available to Michigan law enforcement agencies, according to Berrien county sheriff's Lt. Michael Devine, LMC law enforcement training programs coordinator.

Additional purposes of the session including examining all recent changes and additions to the system and stimulating optimum use of LEIN through up-to-date training, Lt. Devine indicated.

As in the past, LMC has been selected as one of the host agencies for the series of one-day LEIN workshops to be held throughout the state. More than 125 police communications officers from 19 law enforcement agencies have participated in the sessions at LMC.

Class size will be limited to 50 people, Lt. Devine said, and all departments wishing to send officers are asked to contact the LMC Law Enforcement Training office as soon as possible by telephoning (616) 927-3671, extension 403.

'BEATS... AN ASSEMBLY LINE'

Students Flock To Blacksmith School

By RON MANN
BELLEVILLE, Mich. (AP) — "I just got tired of hanging from a building for somebody else for a lousy three dollars an hour," says a disenchanted blacksmith.

"At least when I finish this course and become a blacksmith I will be risking my neck for myself."

The remark came from Bob Plant of Rochester, N.Y., one of 30 students enrolled in the Michigan School of Horseshoeing at Belleville.

For Plant and the others, the school represents a chance to break out of the vocational molds many feel have been holding them.

Many say blacksmithing offers a chance at a new or better life.

"Being a blacksmith and having my own business will sure beat working on an assembly line," said laid-off auto worker Dave Hogan of Southgate. "If I fail it will be my own fault."

For 35-year-old Susan Scriber of Upton, Mass., one of three women in the class, becoming a blacksmith is just one more step toward total independence.

"I have a self-sufficient farm near Upton," she explained. "Learning to shoe my own horses will make it even more self-sufficient."

The group spent one recent morning trimming mares, a relatively easy task. But they were going to spend the afternoon with yearlings who had had little contact with humans.

Leaning on a corral fence, school owner and instructor Red Tomlinson puffed his pipe as he watched the students work.

"It takes a tough person, someone with a lot of guts who is not afraid of work, to make it as a blacksmith," he said.

Tomlinson should know. He spent 11 years as a professional blacksmith before opening his school three years ago.

His "clients" have included horse owned by Wayne Newton and Arthur Godfrey.

Most of his students are looking for self-employment, he said.

Considering that a beginning blacksmith should earn about $20,000 a year and a top experienced smithy around $40,000, it's not a bad opportunity, Tomlinson said.

But remember what you'll have to do to earn that money.

Out in a pasture 40 yearlings were trying to avoid the students with their trimmers by racing from one end of the field to the other. So were the students.

The biggest obstacle to becoming a blacksmith, said instructor Tom Chilcutt, a former professional wrestler, "is a stomach disorder. It's called lack of guts."

However, Tomlinson points out that the school has averaged only one dropout for each 10-week session.

No one could really blame a less-than-dedicated student for dropping out. During those 10 weeks each potential blacksmith will handle more than 100 horses, spend 30 hours studying horse anatomy and hand-fashion at least 10 different types of horseshoes.

Two days a week are spent with the forges and books in Belleville and three days are spent working at large stables or farms in southeastern Michigan.

Students receive no pay for trimming or shoeing the horses. It's all practical experience.

Back in the pasture, the majority of yearlings had been rounded up. A few ran tauntingly free while others were being pinned to the ground by two or three students as another did the hoof-trimming.

Bill Isabell of Rand, Colo., was trying to soothe and make friends with a frightened animal after making sure the harness rein was wrapped securely around a convenient pole.

As graduation approached, the students prepared to return to virtually every corner of the country as professional blacksmiths.

They had come from California, Colorado, Alabama, New York, Massachusetts, Maine, Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana and Canada, as well as Michigan.

Most were short on experience with horses and long on love for the animals when they arrived. But all had brought a desire for a better way of life.

Hopefully, they found it.

Troopers Probe Shooting Death

Paw Paw Bureau

HARTFORD — State police from Paw Paw said they were continuing their investigation this morning of the shooting death of a rural Hartford man whose body was discovered Saturday at his mobile home near here.

Troopers said Gary Clinton Stoddard, 24, 67th avenue, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Carl Boothby, Hartford, Van Buren county deputy medical examiner.

Police said Stoddard died from a bullet wound to the left lung. They said the bullet had exited below the shoulder blade. A .32 caliber rifle was found lying beside him, according to officers.

Police said they were called to the scene by Stoddard's roommate, James Widner, 31, who told troopers he discovered the body in a bedroom of the mobile home about 1 p.m. after returning home from work.

Police said the body was lying face down next to a bed. The rifle had been fired once, police said.

The victim's mother, Mrs. Martin Stoddard, 62nd avenue, Decatur, told police that her son had talked about killing himself in the past, because he did not feel wanted by anyone. The statement was contained in a report by Tpr. Alan Peterson and Kenneth Bennett regarding the shooting.

Mr. Stoddard was employed by Hilltop Orchards and Nursery, Hartford. He was a 1970 graduate of Hartford high school and served in the Army from Oct. 23, 1970 until June 19, 1972.

Elephants Proving Elusive

HUGO, Okla. (AP) — Searchers in planes, helicopters, dune buggies and horses combed brush land for two weeks looking for two elusive baby elephants, but it took a mule named Cantina to find them.

And how it seems corralling Isa and Lilly may be as hard as finding them. Workers resumed efforts today to corral the baby elephants.

Circus personnel and members of a Paris, Tex., riding club tried to drive the pair to the waiting elephant handlers, but finally gave up late Sunday evening when one of the handlers suffered a heart attack and a driving rainstorm hit the area.

honorably discharged should be restored to their full rights and privileges. And those who enlisted or were drafted into that bitter war and came back only to find unemployment and discrimination, should let the hero's welcome of jobs and opportunity to go along with their medals and memories," he said.

Jordan also criticized the Ford Administration and the Democratic-controlled Congress for having "failed black people on the economic front."

While the government talks about 9 per cent unemployment, Jordan said, "the true rate for white workers is almost 15 per cent, while the rate for blacks is an incredible 26 per cent — or more than one out of four."

He also said members of the league should "examine more closely the incredible claims of George Wallace to the presidency."

He said the Wallace movement could be dismissed in the past as "merely the last dying cry of rabid segregationists fighting the futile fight to turn back the clock."

"But the explosive conditions of a national depression raise the possibility that people may turn to the populist promises Wallace offers."

PATH OF CHASE: Car chased by police Saturday crashed through fence (top) and came to rest against tree (bottom) on Jerry Davis property, Sodus township. number and description of the auto. The man who had been in the store and the one reported outside got into the parked car, and occupants of both vehicles looked at each other for about two minutes, Immoos said. The parked auto then left at high speed, east on Pipestone toward Sodus, it was reported. The passersby then called sheriff's officers.

The passersby were identified as Patrick Stevenson, 26, Hippa Hollow road, Eau Claire, the driver, and Donald Blystone, 38, Berrien Springs. Also in their car were Stevenson's wife, Martha, and their two small boys, and Blystone's wife, Susan, and their two small girls.

Immoos said Sodus township Police Chief Ed Juergenson, supplied with a license number and car description, spotted a vehicle matching the description on Naomi road, just west of Sodus village. Juergenson gave chase.

Immoos said Juergenson pursued the auto off Naomi road, down a driveway at the home of Ward Collins. The shotgun was reported tossed from the car, and the chase continued around the house, through an orchard and corn field at the Collins' residence.

Immoos said Tietenbach, in a sheriff's patrol car arrived at the location on Naomi road and got out. The pursued car left the corn field, back onto Naomi road, and Tietenbach shouted for the driver to stop. Immoos said. The first four shots then were fired, Immoos said.

The fleeing car veered across Naomi road, through a wood fence and into a tree on the property of Jerry Davis, 3340 Naomi road. Two men got out and started to run when Tietenbach shouted a final warning and fired the fatal shot. Immoos said. The man hit fell to the ground at once, but the other continued running some distance farther.

The fugitive was reported apprehended about an hour later, after a search of the Davis farm by a dozen officers from the sheriff's department, Sodus township and Berrien Springs - Oronoko police departments and state police.

Immoos said the fugitive was located, crouched by a small creek, called "Sucker's brook," by Deputy Ross Brumbaugh and Trooper L. McDonald of the Paw Paw post, handler of the tracking dog, Bart, brought from Paw Paw. The creek was reported a couple hundred yards from where the auto hit the tree.

Immoos said Neither Brown nor Gayles carried any weapons on their persons when shot and apprehended, and Gayles offered no resistance.

Immoos said Brown did not have any identification papers on his person, and identification was made through fingerprints.

Jewell said an investigation is continuing to determine who was driving the pursued car and who entered the store. Jewell said the car was determined to be registered to Brown's wife. Jewell said investigation also will include a report that a man in a similar auto also stopped at Pay-Less grocery, Naomi and River roads; Sodus township, Saturday asked for some pop, but left.

Smietanka said Sandilac's store had been robbed about a year ago when a man entered, asked for an item the store didn't have, then left and returned with a gun to commit robbery.

Percy Lee Brown Jr., was born August 5, 1953 in Tallulah, La. He was formerly employed at Michigan Standard Alloys, Inc., of Benton Harbor.

Survivors include his wife, Joan; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lee Brown Sr., Cassopolis; a daughter, Sherrie, at home; a son, Percy Lee III; five stepdaughters, Margie Ann, Terrie Ann, Janis, Sonya, Shnell, all of Benton Harbor; two stepsons, David Suel and Timothy Simms; two brothers, Roy, of Cassopolis, Earl, Cassopolis; and three sisters, Bernice, Mary, both of Cassopolis; Betty, Benton Harbor.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Finch funeral home.

It's News TODAY

Prosecution Starts Case

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The prosecution in the Joan Little murder trial was to begin presenting its evidence today, two weeks after the trial started. Solicitor William Griffin has said he has found no eyewitnesses to the alleged murder of Beaufort County jailer Clarence Allgood. He was expected to attempt to build his case with circumstantial evidence. Pre-trial activities have given some indication of Griffin's efforts to prove that the 21-year-old Miss Little, a black, plotted an escape attempt and lured the white jailer into her cell, where she stabbed him with an icepick. He will use character witnesses, telephone records, and other data in an effort to disprove Miss Little's story. She has maintained that she acted in self defense. She said Allgood entered her cell with the icepick and tried to rape her.

Turks Moving In

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkish units began moving into U.S. military installations scattered around Turkey today, officials here said. They said the troops were acting to take control of the bases but declined to give further details. No reports were available from the sites to confirm the official announcement. Officials denied press reports that the United States had already closed down some of the key bases. "There is no question of closing down the bases or sending the personnel away. But operations are being suspended gradually since Saturday in accordance with the Turkish government's decision," the officials said.

Police Seek Four Escapees

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — State Police were looking today for four men who jumped a fence and escaped Sunday night from the Michigan Training Unit at Ionia. Officers said the men were believed to have left the area of the corrections facility and were not armed. But police warned that two of the escapees were serving terms for armed robbery and were considered dangerous. They were identified as Delmar Wall, 19, of Waterford, and Neil McGinnis, 19, of Walled Lake. The other escapees were identified as Patrick Lynn, 20, of Pontiac, and Gregory Derbyshire, 19, of Jackson.

Two Teens Are Rescued

BAYFIELD, Ont. (AP) — Two Port Huron teen-agers were rescued Sunday after spending 36 hours drifting in their sailboat in Lake Huron. Canadian Coast Guard searchers found Paul Shion and Rob Carroll, both 16, who had been missing since Saturday when they left Sarnia, Ont., in their small sailboat. Coast Guard officials said the youths apparently had trouble with the boat's keel and were unable to steer.

Suspect Charged In Two FBI Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Theodore Eagle, 19, remains in custody after being charged in the deaths of two FBI agents on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota.

Eagle, one of four persons being sought by the two agents when they were shot June 26, turned himself in to federal authorities in Rapid City on July 9.

He was charged Sunday with two counts of killing a federal officer.

The complaint against Eagle was filed in Rapid City before U.S. Magistrate James H. Wilson, the FBI said.

Eagle, listed by the FBI as being from the Wind River Indian Reservation in Wyoming, was the first person to be charged in the deaths of agents Jack R. Coler and Ronald A. Williams.

When he turned himself in, Eagle was wanted by the FBI on charges of assault with a dangerous weapon and armed robbery.

Director Clarence M. Kelley said the FBI is continuing an intensive investigation of the murders.

Sheriff Dept. Boat Dunked

A Berrien sheriff's department boat, in the process of recovering a stolen sailboat Friday, was towed to the St. Joseph Coast Guard station after it swamped near shore in Lake Michigan about eight miles south of St. Joseph.

The St. Joseph Coast Guard reported no one was aboard the 18-foot outboard powered boat when waves swamped it. Deputies were on shore recovering the 16-foot sailboat, reported stolen last week from Ronald Schlamann of Sawyer.

A Coast Guard boat recovered the sailboat Saturday. An unidentified man reported the beached sailboat Friday about 5:30 p.m.

Lid Makers Say Michigan Received Its 'Fair Share'

By PIET BENNETT
Associated Press Writer

Where have all the canning lids gone? With Michigan's home canning season almost ripe, an Associated Press survey of 21 cities from Ironwood to Pontiac to Benton Harbor found almost no lids available in any store at any price.

But manufacturers say they plan to produce 1.6 billion lids this year and insist Michigan is getting its fair share.

Explanations for the shortage range from a conspiracy by manufacturers to hoarding by consumers to a near doubling of demand as more Americans than ever grow their own.

A special House committee is investigating the shortage, and the Federal Trade Commission has called for a federal probe.

The search for lids is taking on epic proportions. Some Saginaw lid seekers set out in a van for California recently after hearing rumors of "tons of lids out there."

The same day, a woman arriving at Tri-City Airport reported there were no lids in California either.

A Grand Rapids woman bemoaned the lack of lids during a phone call to her daughter in North Carolina. "How many do you want? I'll go right back to the store," the daughter said. Three days later, a bounty of the precious lids were at the Grand Rapids woman's home.

"I learned after my canning supplies were sold out that they were being blackmarketed in the South," said Toni Chapdelaine at an IGA Food Market in the Oakland County community of Gingsville.

It's a fact: Lids are more plentiful in the South. Lid makers contend it is because supplies are shipped South first, since the canning season there starts sooner than in Michigan.

Ernest Poole, president of an electrical firm in Jackson, searched for lids near home for a year, finally finding 400 dozen in the course of a 1,500-mile trip through southern Indiana and Kentucky.

"Some wouldn't sell to me because they were saving them for their regular customers. Some charged more than the tops were marked because they knew I was from the North," Poole contended.

Home again, he offered his surplus for sale, marking the price "up 85 per cent and they were all gone in 20 minutes." He made a second trip South and failed to find lids.

In all, Poole reported, "I didn't quite come out even after I paid for my gas and all ... I made absolutely zero."

Poole believes the "lid conspiracy" theories, since "there was no problem getting them, then they disappeared all of a sudden."

Manufacturers insist they are making all the lids possible. William Brantley of the Ball Corp. in Muncie, Ind., a major manufacturer, said his firm is operating 24 hours per day, every day.

Brantley said Ball employees "get one day off every 42 days" as the firm battles to meet demand.

Lid makers expect to make 1.6 billion lids this year, but it has been predicted that demand will reach 2.9 billion.

The five manufacturers selling lids in Michigan include two which began production this year. The companies report sending more lids to Michigan already this year than in all of 1974. Beradin Corp. of Evansville, Ind., said its shipments exceed 1974's total by 13,000 cases. There are 720 lids per case.

In 1974 there was a shortage of jars, eliminated this summer by increased production. Jars can be reused and lids cannot. Production increases may eliminate the lid shortage too—but not before 1976.

The number of home gardeners was expected to rise from 20 million three years ago to more than 32 million this year.

Many retailers reported being on quotas based on 1974 sales. Some said their allocation is 80 to 90 per cent of last year's.

The AP survey found 86 of 97 stores were out of lids last week. Most merchants said occasional supplies sold out quickly; many said retailers haven't had a lid in months.

An official at A&P in Iron Mountain said, "They're just not available and haven't been since April." Arvin Schoeck of Schnecks in St. Joseph said, "We haven't received a lid for eight weeks."

Vern Schranz of the Ball Corp. declared, "With the number of replacement caps being produced, there should be about 70 lids for practically every homemaker in the country."

But retailers disagreed. Few singled out the consumer for blame, asking, "How can you hoard what you can't get?"

Prices vary as widely as supplies. They ranged from a statewide low 28 cents per dozen to as high as $1.69 per dozen at a Benton Harbor drug store which was ordered to stop selling at the high price by its parent firm after a customer complained.

The survey covered stores in Owosso, Pontiac, Saginaw, Escanaba, Ironwood, Ypsilanti, Niles, Port Huron, Kalamazoo, Ionia, Muskegon, Battle Creek, Sault Ste. Marie, Adrian, Benton Harbor, Lansing, Jackson, Iron Mountain, Hillsdale, Ann Arbor and Flint.

UNWANTED CUSTOMER: Service station on Lake street near Thomson road east of Niles had unwanted customer Saturday night when motorcycle crashed through glass of front door. Driver of cycle, Kenneth Smith, 22, Niles, received cuts to chest and arms and was reported in good condition today in Pawating hospital. Niles Tprs. Alanzo Nether, right, and William Porter of Niles state police post in Niles said driver was attempting to make U-turn in parking lot when he lost control of cycle and went through window. Station was closed at time of accident. (Staff photo)

Paw Paw Motorist Killed In Rollover

KALAMAZOO — A 19-year-old Paw Paw man was killed early this morning when the car he was driving rolled over after failing to negotiate at curve on Q-avenue at Second street in rural Kalamazoo county.

Michael John McNeill, route 4, Ackley lake, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Robert Janke, Kalamazoo, according to state police at Paw Paw.

Troopers said the wreck of McNeill's car was discovered by a passing motorist about 6 a.m., but they said they believe the accident occurred several hours earlier.

According to troopers, McNeill was headed west on Q-avenue when his vehicle went off the road on the curve and slid sideways.

The car appeared to have rolled over once and landed upright off the road, police said.

Urge Groups To Register '76 Dates

Groups that plan special bicentennial events in Berrien county are invited to record the dates in a calendar of such events being kept by the Berrien County Bicentennial commission.

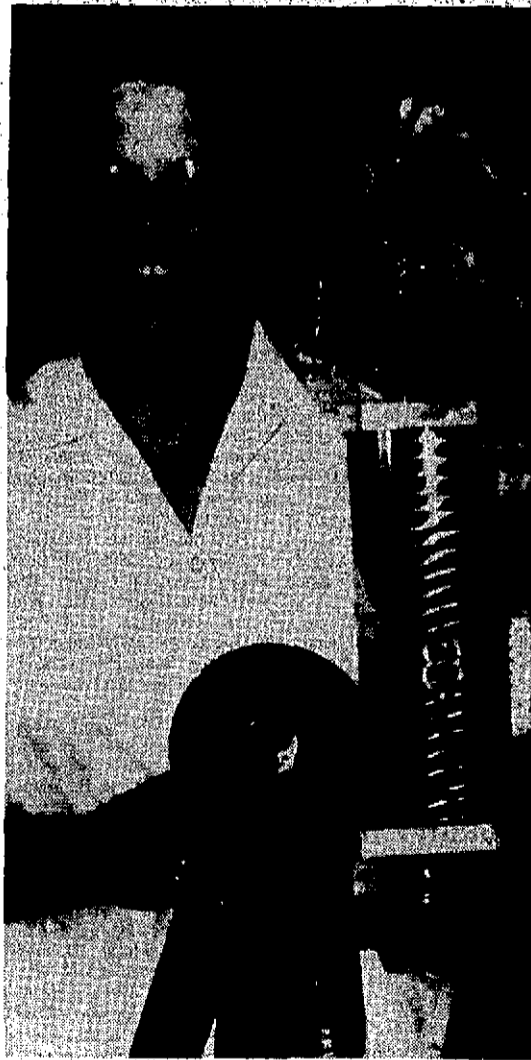

The primary purpose of the calendar is to help groups in all communities of the county select dates that do not conflict with other activities.

Dr. A.S. Mowery, executive director of the bicentennial commission, said a number of dates have already been recorded. The calendar is being maintained at the commission office, 777 Riverview drive, Benton Harbor.

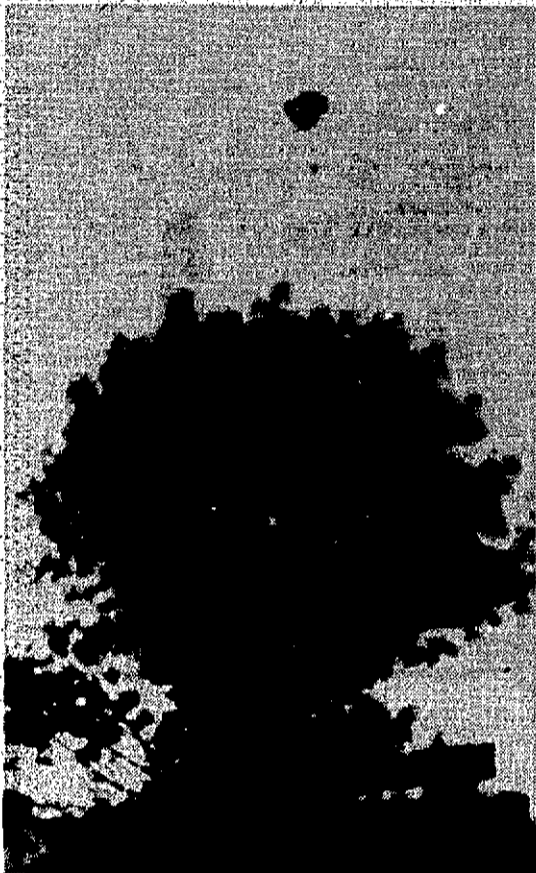

"The most active area for bicentennial events appears to be Niles, judging by the number we know of which were produced and those yet to come this year and next," Mowery said.

Troopers said the accident was still under investigation. Funeral arrangements were incomplete this morning at the Hawley funeral home, Paw Paw.

SWEEPSTAKES WINNER: Gayle Spencer, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Spencer, Lawton, won championship sweepstakes Saturday at Van Buren Youth fair. Competition requires entrants to show beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep, swine, and goats. Gary Mead, 18, Decatur, last year's sweepstakes winner, was runner-up. Attendance at fair Saturday was 12,500, bringing week's total to 47,500. Last year attendance for week-long fair was 40,900. Fair's last day was Saturday. (Staff photo)

New Buffalo Crash May Cost Motorcyclist A Leg

NEW BUFFALO — A New Buffalo motorcyclist was reported in poor condition in a hospital while his passenger was listed in serious to fair condition today as the result of a traffic accident near here last night.

State police from New Buffalo identified the cycle driver as Ben Conklin, 22, 801 Water street, and the passenger as Linda Maitland, 22, 800 Chicago road.

Conklin was in St. Joseph hospital, South Bend, while Miss Maitland was in St. Anthony's hospital, Michigan City, Ind. Police said Conklin might lose a leg as a result of the crash.

According to officers, the accident occurred about 10 p.m. when a car was turned into the path of the cycle, causing the cycle to slam into the car.

The accident, police said, occurred on Red Arrow highway when the car, driven by Charles Williams, 36, Chicago, attempted to make a turn onto Lakeshore drive.

Williams escaped injury but was ticketed for careless driving, police said.

Three Oaks Registration Deadline

THREE OAKS — The last day for qualified voters to register for a special Sept. 6 River Valley school election is Aug. 7, according to school officials here.

Those not already registered may do so with their township clerk.

At stake in the election is a $3,375,000 bond issue for the construction of a new middle school and renovations to the present high school and three elementary schools.

Since the election was an advisory one, the outcome is not binding on the township board or property owners until subsequent formal action by the board, according to township officials.

The advisory vote was one of the requirements which had to be met before the area may apply for a sewer construction grant from the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

A preliminary cost estimate for the proposed project has been set at $1,000,000, according to Gove and Associates, a Kalamazoo engineering firm, which has been working with the Indian Lake Improvement Association. The advisory vote was sought by the association.

The proposed area involved for a special assessment district is bounded by School street on the north, Indian Lake road on the east, M-62 on the south and Brush Lake road on the west.

Pro-Sewer Vote At Indian Lake

DOWAGIAC — Residents of the Indian lake area in Silver Creek township in an advisory vote Saturday approved setting up a special assessment district for establishment of sanitary sewer facilities for the area.

H. Jean Casey, township clerk, reported that 283 residents voted for the measure and 107 against it. She said 12 ballots were spoiled.

ROLL-OVER ACCIDENT: Mattie Eva Barnes, 29, of 854 Bishop avenue, Benton Harbor, was injured Sunday when auto she was driving hit light pole and overturned on Riverview drive, near Gray avenue, according to Benton Harbor police. Mrs. Barnes was treated and released from Mercy hospital. Passenger, Wallace Barnes, 10, South Haven, was reported unhurt. Patrolman John Pagel, inspecting wreckage, said driver apparently lost control when she raised container of soft drink for sip while driving south on Riverview. No tickets were issued. Rozelle gave the rights to Kevin Hardy of Notre Dame, then a rookie, and a first-round draft choice to San Francisco in 1968 after New Orleans signed former Aler Dave Farris.

Masry said Bryant, a three-year man out of Colorado who was converted from a defensive back to running back, was "shocked" by the ruling.

"He's very happy with the Rams and wants to stay,"

Hiller had been pitching. Pentz, 22, was converted from a starter to a reliever this year at Montgomery of the Southern League and continued as, a reliever after his promotion to Evansville. At Montgomery, he was 4-2 with a 1.64 ERA in 22 games, while his Evansville record was 2-1 with a 2.7 ERA in 17 games.

A 6-foot-1, 200-pounder from Jointstown, Pa., Pentz has been in professional baseball since 1971. He missed last season because of a back problem.

The loss of Hiller was the second in two days for the Tigers, who Friday put outfielder Don Meyer on the 15-day disabled list, effective July 20, because of a foot injury.

lifted in the sixth because of a slight muscle pull in his pitching arm.

Boog Powell hit a two-run single for Cleveland in the third off Tom Walker, then John Lowenstein hit a two-run single and Jack Brohamer a three-run homer in the fourth off Dave Lemanczyk.

In the second game, Oscar Gamble — who homered in the seventh off Lemanczyk — doubled in two runs in the opening inning.

Sherman Named Most Valuable Player

S. Haven Legion District Champ

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

South Haven is in a class by itself.

That was quite apparent this weekend as the 49ers swept to five straight wins without a loss to capture the American Legion district tournament championship.

South Haven capped the winning weekend Sunday afternoon with an 8-0 smashing of Three Oaks with pitching aces Dan Sherman and Dave Gumpert combining for an one-hitter.

In the five wins, South Haven, the Blue-Gray league champ, outscored its opponents 38-10 and outlit its foes 43-25. The 49ers, now 25-3 overall on the season, will try to duplicate that success starting Friday in the Legion zone tourney at Jackson.

"Sherman and Gumpert did great jobs again but our entire pitching staff was great all weekend," stated aggressive 49er coach Jim McCloughan. "We had to jog our staff around because of that new Legion pitching rule but they came through."

"And we got quite a few hits too. Sweet (Mike) and Rogalla (Duane) did great jobs of hitting. And Hostetter (John) also came up with some big second-reaction plays at shortstop too."

Sherman was voted the tourney's Most Valuable Player award by his teammates. In 12 innings the strong righty picked up two wins while allowing one earned run. He also contributed five base hits.

Rogalla finished as the tournament's top hitter with nine hits in 17 plate appearances. He's now hitting .368.

Sherman, 11-0 overall, twirled four perfect innings Sunday while fanning five. Gumpert, who also notched two tourney wins and permitted just one run in 11 frames, tossed the last three innings. Gumpert gave up Three Oaks' lone safety—a line drive to left in the fifth by Denny Zebell.

The 49ers got only two hits off Three Oaks pitching but six loser errors made all eight South Haven runs unearned.

South Haven broke through with a run in the third on a walk, a two-base error by the centerfielder and a sacrifice fly off the bat of Tom Capps.

The 49ers opened up the contest at Benton township park with four in the fifth on three walks, two errors and a two-run single by Rogalla, the first South Haven hit of the game. South Haven rolled in with three in the sixth on two walks, an error, a wild pitch and a two-run single by Sherman.

Roger Sherman took the loss although he didn't allow a hit in three innings of work. Sherman was yanked when his arm stiffened up. Carl Underwood and Dale Luther finished up.

Well-coached South Haven eliminated Hickory Corners 8-1 and then ousted Lakeshore 7-1 in Saturday action.

Terry Marr fired a five-hitter while South Haven zapped 11 hits in the easy victory over Hickory Corners. Rogalla, Al Watson and Brad Dickerson all smacked two hits while Frank Winter, Sherman and Mike Dornan all swatted doubles with Dornan knocking in two runs.

Gumpert, 10-2 overall, chucked a two-hitter in the 49ers' win over Lakeshore, which made 12 errors in its two games Saturday with all 11 opponent runs unearned. Gumpert ended with seven whiffs.

South Haven, which had seven hits, received two singles from Capps, a RBI double from Sherman and a two-run single from Sweet. Steve Renihack, who belted a triple, was tagged with the loss.

Lakeshore, a pre-tourney favorite along with South Haven, was upset by determined Three Oaks 4-3 in first-game play Saturday.

Denny Busse pitched a solid six-hitter to register the win while Barry Adams suffered the setback.

Busse rapped a double for Three Oaks, which scored two in the fourth to pull the game out. Dale Burwell and Adams both punched two singles with Jim Rabbers adding a two-bagger for Lakeshore, which had six hits. Lakeshore committed five errors.

Lakeshore and St. Joseph will now play in the Connie Mack district tournaments. Both play Thursday with Lakeshore going to Portage and St. Joe to Wyoming.

Heights Earns Mack Title

By Winning Pitching Duel

Benton Heights clinched at least a tie for the West division crown Sunday afternoon, but the Indians had to win a pitching duel to do it.

Rick Thomas, recently acquired from the defunct Benton Harbor Legion club, turned a one-hitter — striking out 13 and walking none — as the Heights downed Hagar 2-0 in Connie Mack action at the loser's field.

In the only other weekend action, Bangor upped its record to 9-4 with a 3-2 win over Fairplain Sunday at Fairplain's field.

While Thomas was mowing down Hagar, Mickey Ashbrook was doing the same thing to the Indians. Ashbrook also gave up just one hit, striking out 13 and walking two.

The only hit he gave up was a big one, a solo home run for Mike Schulz in the fourth inning. The Heights notched its other run in the sixth when Rick Haney got on base on an error and eventually scored on a wild pitch.

The only hit Hagar managed off Thomas was a scratch single by Don Thomas in the fifth.

Benton Heights is now 11-2 while Hagar drops to 1-13.

Fairplain had Bangor down 2-0 after three innings but couldn't protect its lead. Jon Herman doubled and Richard Maxwell drove him in with a fielder's choice in the second. Fairplain got its other run in the third on successive singles by Dave Crum, Scott Mucia and Gary Bartolone.

Bangor tied up the contest in the fourth when Tom Mrikacek singled, Bob Garvison walked and both came home on Don Laundre's double. Fred Dukes singled in the fifth and came home on a wild pitch for the winning run.

John Dentzman got the win and Bob Mattner absorbed the loss as Fairplain dropped to 5-7.

SAFE AT SECOND: South Haven's Dan Sherman slides safely into second with a stolen base as Three Oaks' second baseman Dave Zebell tries unsuccessfully to put the tag on. The 49ers won the contest by an 8-0 score to take the American Legion District crown. Sherman was also named the tourney's Most Valuable Player. (Staff photo)

Phillies Trying To Stop Pirates

Madlock's Two Home Runs Help Chicago Gain Split

From Associated Press
Now that Cincinnati seems to have locked up the West Division, the question is who'll volunteer to try and stop Pittsburgh in the East?

Thank you, Danny Ozark.

"Somebody has to and we'll do it best," Philadelphia's fleet manager said as he looked forward to tonight's opener of a three-game series in Pittsburgh against the front-running Pirates.

The Pirates, steamrolling Montreal 4-1 and 5-3 in a doubleheader Sunday, got a bit of unexpected help from St. Louis, which dumped the Phillies 9-6 and dropped them 5½ games out of first place.

Ted Simmons' mammoth seventh-inning home run carried the Cardinals past Philadelphia. It was his third hit of the game and made a winner of 38-year-old Bob Gibson.

The one-time fireballing right-hander hadn't won a game since June 27 and he won this one in only his second relief role since 1965.

In the rest of the National League, Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 5-3. San Diego defeated Atlanta 3-1. San Francisco downed Houston 5-3 and, in another twinbill, Chicago split with New York, winning the opener 4-2 before the Mets took the 10-inning nightcap 4-1.

Wally Stargell borrowed a light bat from pitcher John Candalaria and slugged a three-run homer in the eighth inning of the nightcap to give Pittsburgh its sweep over the

Don Sutton won his 14th game of the year—but despite the victory, the Dodgers found themselves right where they started four games ago, mainly 12½ games behind the Reds in the West.

Lee Lacy's two-run single capped a four-run fourth inning for the Dodgers.

Dave Winfield's two runs batted in backed Randy Jones' six-hitter that enabled the Padres to sweep a four-game series from the Braves, who won all but one of their games against San Diego a year ago.

Chris Speier hit a homer for the Giants while John Montefusco and Gary Lavelle tamed Houston, teaming for a seven-hitter.

Singles by Felix Millan and Rusty Staub and a walk to Joe Torre loaded the bases against Paul Reuschel, 0-1, then Garrett singled to left to break the tie and John Stearns scored Torre with a single to center.

The Mets got a fifth-inning run off starter Tom Seaver when winner Hank Webb, 3-3, walked and Millan and John Milner singled. The Cubs tied it in the seventh on Pete LaCock's fifth homer of the year, a leadoff shot into the rightfield seats.

In the first game, Madlock's first homer off Jerry Koosman, 9-8, followed a walk to Rick Monday in the third inning and broke a 1-1 tie. He added a solo homer, his sixth of the season, in the seventh.

The Mets got a run off winner Steve Stone, 8-5, in the first inning when Garrett walked, Ed Kranepool singled and Staub hit a sacrifice fly. The Cubs tied it in the second when Jose Cardenal doubled, stole third and continued home on catcher Jerry Grote's wild throw.

Dave Kingman of the Mets hit his 22nd homer of the year in the seventh inning.

In the Junior Division for ages 9-12, David Burns was first with Jerry Fryman second and David's sister Denise third. All three are from Berrien Springs.

Brian Tieffenbach of Bridgman took first in the Senior Division for ages 16-18. Mark Joiner of St. Joseph was second and Coloma's Joel Carlson was third.

In the Intermediate Division for ages 13-15, Dave Nealy of Coloma was first with Berrien Springs' Dick Hines second and Steve Friedrich third.

Hines and Mark Carter, also of Berrien Springs, captured the double competition. Greg Dille of Berrien Springs and Mark Fisher of Buchanan combined for second and Dave Nealy of Coloma and Thomas Aurlinger of Benton Harbor finished third.

No table tennis players will be going to Canada for this year's CanAmmer games. Table tennis is being considered for a winter activity by the CanAmmer international board for possible inclusion for the 1978 Winter Games in February.

Pay 'N Pak Takes Second Straight Gold Cup Regatta

KENNEWICK, Wash. (AP) — Pay 'N Pak continued its Sherman-like march through the unlimited hydroplane racing season Sunday, winning its second straight Gold Cup Regatta and grabbing the national point lead.

Rim in hot, cloudless weather before thousands of spectators lining the shores of the Columbia River, the race was narrated by the near-sinking of the Miss Budweiser early in the day.

George Henley piloted the 3-year-old Rolls Royce powered Pay 'N Pak to three first-place finishes and one third-place finish in four heats of racing.

The Pak's point-lead was so great after the first three heats of the day that Henley only needed to finish the final heat — in any position — to win the regatta.

The Miss U.S. of Detroit, driven by Tom D'Eath was second for the day with 1,225 points. Henley and the Pak had 1,425.

The Lincoln Thrift of Phoenix, driven by Milner Irvin, was third with 1,100. Hamm's Bear of Madison, Ind., was fourth with 863. The U-80, formerly Super Cinders, of Van Nuys, Calif., was fifth with 747 and Miss Vornor's was sixth with 688.

Other point finishers were: Oh Boy Oberlin, 469, Atlas Van Lines, 300. Wetsfield's, 225 and Sunny Jim Jam, 65.

It was a day of disappointment for several of the boat owners and drivers. The Miss Budweiser, figured to be one of the fastest five boats at the race, badly damaged her left sponson in heat 1-B and five laps later went dead in the water and began going under.

The craft nearly disappeared from sight, with jockey Mickey Remund on the boat waving for help. Rescue boats reached Remund and tied a line on the Budweiser and towed it to shore.

The Miss Wetsfield's, of Seattle, the national point leader going into the Gold Cup, led for the first five laps of heat 1-A then developed severe engine problems and fell to fourth place.

The Wetsfield's finished heat 2-A in third place. Then, in heat 3-A driver Billy Schumacher was in first place when the boat went dead in the water in the third lap.

Henley's victory puts the Pay 'N Pak in the national point lead with 5,884 points for the year. The Wetsfield's is now second on the season with 5,788 and the Lincoln Thrift is third with 5,621.

At one point this season the Pay 'N Pak trailed the Wetsfield's by 2,335 points but has since come on strong and has won the latest three regattas on the circuit.

Next week the boats race in Seattle in the Seafair Regatta.

U.S., East Germany Sweep Swim Games

American Girls Closing Gap

CALI, Colombia (AP) — They pulled the plug on the second World Aquatics Championships and when it was all over, only the United States and East Germany could hold their heads above water.

The powerful American and East German contingents overwhelmed the field and their only competition was against each other.

The United States Sunday claimed its second straight World Aquatics Championships team victory, finishing with 16 gold medals, 11 silver and 10 bronze. East Germany totalled 11 gold, seven silver and five bronze.

But the Americans' team total includes three gold medals won in synchronized swimming and two in diving. Without those medals, the two swimming powers each finished with 11 gold, almost exactly where they left off in Belgrade two years ago at the first Aquatic Games.

In Belgrade, tiny East Germany, which had won only two swimming gold medals the year before at the Munich Olympics, shocked the Americans by producing a fleet of flying frauleins who won 10 gold medals in 14 women's swimming events. The American women won only three gold but were rescued by the men, who swam to eight victories in 15 events. The East German men swimmers chipped in with two gold and at the finish line, the East Germans had beaten the powerful American swimmers 12-11 in gold nuggets.

This time, the Americans were ready for the East German females, and although they have closed the gap somewhat, it still exists.

"We have come back and I think we have proven this," said Flip Darr, coach of the American women swimmers, who won three gold, five silver and five bronze. Belgrade was the stimulus.

"Our situation after the Olympics was not a shortage of talent. We had many young girls who had done great, but the older experienced girls who retired hurt us a bit and we didn't realize it in time. The younger girls rode on the laurels of the Olympics and we got beat."

Overconfidence, however, is not the reason why the American women lose to swimmers like Kornelia Ender. Miss Ender just happens to be the best female swimmer anywhere and she is part of the reason why the American women are still trailing in the wake of the East Germans.

Sunday night, on the ninth and last day of these aquatic games, which brought together more than 700 competitors from 39 countries, Miss Ender methodically and inevitably pulled away from the field to win the women's 100 meters freestyle for her second individual gold medal. Miss Ender had won the 100 butterfly Thursday night and triggered East Germany Saturday night to a world record in the women's 4 by 100 meter freestyle with a world record of her own, a 56.22 clocking in the 100 freestyle.

OLD TIGER HONORED: Eddie Onslow, 84, of Scio, Ohio, holds plaque presented to him before Sunday's doubleheader in Detroit. The Tigers celebrated their 75th anniversary in the American League and honored some old-time players, including Onslow, who played first base during 1912-13. (AP Wirephoto)

Mann Comes Back To Take Classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I knew I had to pull myself up by the scruff of the neck," said Carol Mann.

That isn't exactly an easy trick for a 6-foot-3 gal like Miss Mann, but she did the trick.

After bogeying the first hole Sunday, she rolled in three birdie putts, and didn't falter again until she had the $40,000 George Washington Classic locked up with a final round 70 for a 210.

Another three strokes back at 213 were Jo Ann Prentice and Kathy Whitworth, both recent Women's Golf Hall of Fame inductees. Miss Prentice finished with a 71, and Miss Whitworth a 74.

Miss Mann said the key to her victory was at the 15th hole, where she was in a bunker on the second shot, and her closest competitor, Miss McAllister, was on the green 18 feet from a birdie on the par four hole.

Miss McAllister's putt, however, was two feet right of the hole, and she pushed it in for par. Miss Mann came out of the bunker and holed a 15-footer for par.

"If I bogey and she birdies there, it would have been a swing of two strokes, and I'd of been three ahead with three to go," Miss Mann explained. "Instead it was a swing or nothing. I still led by five."

JoAnn Washam finished fifth with a final round par 72, for a three round total of 214. Kathy Aheru carded a 73 Sunday for a 215, while defending champion Sandra Haynie, rookie Bonnie Lauer, and Stacy Hollis deadlocked at 216. Miss Haynie finished with a 72, and Miss Lauer and Miss Hollis, each 74. Donna Young, who shared the first round lead with a five under par 68, faded with a 77 to 217.

Sandra Palmer, recently crowned open champion, had rounds of 74-73-71 for a 220.

Tiger Tracks

DETROIT (AP) — Rookie Jack Pierce is starting to give the Detroit Tigers the run production which they had been lacking from the first base position — but his fielding still leaves a lot to be desired.

Pierce made a throwing error in each game of Sunday's doubleheader split with Cleveland. The one in the second game resulted in two unearned runs in the first inning.

He has eight errors in 39 games.

"I've just been having a circus time. The last three games have been rough," said the easy-going Pierce. "The ball keeps comin' at you and you don't really want it."

"This is really the first time I've had any trouble with my fielding."

Pierce drilled a two-run homer in each game and also had a two-run single. He has seven home runs and at his current pace — had he been with Detroit from the start of the season — he would hit about 30 home runs a season.

He has driven in 20 runs. Projected over a 162-game schedule, he would total about 80 RBI.

"You can't drive in two and let in four," Manager Ralph Houk said.

Rookie pitcher Fernando Arroyo pitched 4 2-3 innings of two-hit, shutout ball in the opener to win his first major league decision. He took the game ball home as a souvenir.

"It was ugly to look at the statistics and see a 12.46 earned-run-average," said Arroyo, who went into the game with that lofty ERA in three appearances.

"I gave up six runs the first inning I pitched the other day against Oakland, but it was a month since I pitched," he said. Arroyo bruised his right thumb fielding a ball Sunday but the injury isn't serious.

Arroyo is a pretty good fielder. He let the Florida State League in assists for a pitcher one year.

Outfielder-first baseman Mickey Stanley is expected to miss the next few games due to a thumb injury he received sliding into second base several games ago. He was to have it examined in New York today.

Houk is high on Gene Pentz, the rookie right-handed relief pitcher brought up from Evansville to replace injured John Hiller.

"He's got a potful of saves. He was the John Hiller of Montgomery and Evansville," Houk said. "That isn't up here, but he's got good qualifications."

Sparky Sixth

Sparky Anderson is in his sixth year as manager of the Cincinnati Reds. His teams played in the 1970 and 1972 World Series.

U.S. Tracksters Star In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — The United States and Canada each took 11 medals at the International Competitions 1975 track and field meet during the weekend, but the United States was a clear winner over the host country in the unofficial medal standings.

The U.S. total sparkled with five golds to go with two silvers and four bronzes, while Canada managed three golds, three silvers and five bronzes.

Belgium was second to the U.S. team with four golds, a silver and two bronzes, followed by Poland with three golds, five silvers and one bronze. Canada's showing earned fourth place.

A small contingent from the Soviet Union, expected to do far better in the 1976 Olympic Games to which the meet was a prelude, had one gold and a bronze, trailing such countries as France, which took seven medals, and Ethiopia, with three.

The only U.S. gold Sunday came in the women's 200 meters when Pam Giles was timed in 23.72 seconds to nip Belgium's Lea Alaerts in 23.75.

Two Canadian open records were cracked Sunday for a total of 12 in the three-day meet. Maria Vergova of Bulgaria hurled the discus 217 feet, 2 inches for a women's mark and, among the men, Ahto Aho of Finland threw the javelin 278-8.

State Sprinter Ties World Dash Record

BOSTON (AP) — Reggie JonFagnano, Mich., has equaled the world's record for the 100-meter dash with a time of 9.8 seconds.

Jones, 21, running for the Philadelphia Pioneer Track Club, tied the record Saturday at an Opportunities Industrialization Center track meet at Boston University's Nickerson Field.

Charlie Wells of Arizona State was second, finishing in 10 seconds flat.

Hasley Crawford of Trinidad, Tobago, and Houston McTeer, 18, of Crestview, Fla., the favorites in the race, traded jibes at the starting line.

McTeer, who shares the 100-yard dash record of 9 seconds with Ivory Crockett, finished third in 10.1. He fell 10 yards past the finish line with severe pulls of both calf muscles.

There were four false starts in the race, and Crawford was disqualified for causing two. Jones and Wells each caused one.

"My legs were hurting because of the false starts," McTeer said. "After the third false start, they started to cramp."

Jones said after the race "I knew in my own mind that all I had to do was place. Nobody thought I would win, but anyone who goes out and gets in shape can win a race."

More than 500 athletes competed in the 23 events in the second annual OIC meet here.

Bradshaw's Best Yet To Come?

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Terry Bradshaw emerged as a cool, confident quarterback in the Pittsburgh Steelers' 1974 Super Bowl drive. And the feeling in the Steeler training camp is that it was nothing more than a prelude for the best Bradshaw has to offer.

"He walked into this training camp and took over the offense like he never has before," said Coach Chuck Noll. "Everything he does now, he does with total confidence. He gets better by the day."

Bradshaw, the first player chosen in the 1970 National Football League draft, agrees that he's gained confidence—but to him that earns the confidence of his teammates.

"I always believed in myself, but I needed others to believe in me as much as I did," he said before a recent workout. "I had to earn that, and it wasn't until the playoffs last year that I did."

Now I know what I have to do, and my teammates know I can do it, too. I'm ready to make up for some of the leadership that I haven't provided before."

RECORD RACE: Silk Stockings, driven by trainer Preston Burris Jr., crosses the finish line to set a world record for the mile for three-year-old fillies and win the Gold Rush, history's richest harness race, at Monticello Raceway in New York Sunday. ## Policeman Builds Little League Field

WATERFORD, Mich. (AP) — Waterford Township policeman Joe Humbaugh was trying to build a Little League baseball field when he finally got fed up with the shortage of local practice fields.

So last year, the 29-year-old Humbaugh dug into $30,000 of his savings to build a ball field for the township's league.

Saturday, a year after the bulldozer first broke land, the field was dedicated before 400 townspeople and Detroit Tiger catcher Bill Freehan, after whom the field is named.

Humbaugh, a manager of one of the Little League teams, says there were 70 teams competing for just eight baseball diamonds last year, and he saw the situation as a crisis.

So the bachelor officer, not wanting his boys to play on just any sandlot, spent $20,000 dollars to buy 8 1/2 acres of land for a field.

Humbaugh says he saved a lot of money while stationed in Vietnam. He said he decided to name the field after Freehan because he thinks Freehan is a good ballplayer.

Freehan said he was pleased to have the field named after him, but adds "it really should be named after the guy who did all the work."

After the ceremonies, Humbaugh gave the Waterford Township police team of 11-year-old-and-under the go-ahead to play the first game on Freehan field. They will share the field with Humbaugh's 13-and-under Rolladums and the Waterford police 13-and-under team.

Congressman Keeps In Touch During His 'Work Days'

By ROXINNE ERVASTI
Associated Press Writer
CARLISLE, Iowa (AP) — Tom Harkin leaned on his sled-hammer, mopped his brow and squinted into the sun from under his new orange hard hat. "Yesterday at this time, I was on the floor of the House," the 35-year-old Democratic congressman puffed. "I'm really going to be beat tonight."

It was mid-morning in what Iowans call "corn weather" — the temperature at 80 degrees, sultry humidity and the sun a few hours away from signaling lunch for the Rock Island railroad section crew.

The Iowa representative was putting in another of his "work days" during Congress' Fourth of July recess. Since 7 a.m., he had been helping replace ties on a section of worn-out track that elevators and farmers rely on to ship grain.

"Work days" started during Harkin's 1974 campaign to unseat William Scherle, 61, an Act) really affects them," he said. Harkin has clerked in a drug store, waited tables in a cafe, slaughtered cattle in a meat locker, emptied bed pans in a nursing home, walked a mail route, coached crafts with handicapped children in a day care center, shoveled manure on a farm and cooked and changed diapers as a housewife.

Many of the Rock Island crew Harkin worked alongside were't even Iowa residents. They live in other states and move from one job to another as their specialized machinery is transferred.

And the only time that Harkin really got to talk to the men was during a 30-minute lunch break. The men talked some about the fate of the financially troubled Rock Island, unemployment and President Ford's chances for re-election. But Harkin found himself mostly involved in small talk, chatter about the good old days. Was he disappointed the men didn't talk much about Washington? "Sure, these guys aren't too interested in politics," he said.

"I can understand that, they're tired and when they get home they're not interested in reading a newspaper front to back."

What do the workmen think? "As a congressman, he'll get more votes than someone in a white collar job who doesn't show any interest in what they work is," said Jack Davis, the 25-year-old ponytail-haired foreman. "If something comes up to be voted on, he'll have the actual experience."

REP. TOM HARKIN
Idea catches on eight-year Republican veteran of the House.

Some say the program helped Harkin oust the conservative farmer from his 5th Congressional District seat. Others say the work days are nothing more than a two-year campaign for re-election.

Either way, the idea has caught on.

While Harkin was laying new track between Indianola and Carlisle, Democratic Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin was hauling garbage.

Other members of Congress adopting the Harkin idea include Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., and Rep. Charles Thone, R-Neb.

Harkin says he is trying to keep in touch with his constituents, with the taxpayers that he says are the "salt of this earth, the backbone of this country."

"In the old days, Congress would meet for maybe six months of the year and then go home," Harkin explained. "And there were a lot more laborers, farmers, small businessmen in Congress then. They were an integral part of their communities."

"Today, the only time an elected official gets out is when he's campaigning for re-election."

"If I were president, I'd have every department head, every top level bureaucrat, including the Henry Kissingers, doing some kind of work days. I'd have the agriculture secretary working on a farm to really talk to the farmers, labor department people working in a small business to see how OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health

Readers Tell It As They See It

ed July 8, with a P. B. meter No. 141498 cancellation which would appear to be from Citizens Committee for Political Freedom, Inc., having an address of P.O. Box 1821 in Lansing. This mailing includes a single sheet addressed to "Every Elected Official," a single sheet, both sides used, addressed to "Dear Senator or Representative," a double page, both sides used, consisting of a statement made by Zolton Ferency and a double page, both sides used, of Common Cause "Political Reform" legislation citations that apparently the Citizens Committee for Political Freedom, Inc. take objection to, the citations apply to House Bill 5250 and Senate Bill 880.

While the information contained in this mailing is too extensive to reproduce here, as are the proposed House and Senate bills, it would appear safe to say that the proposed bills seem to be both unconstitutional and much too repressive. It might also be said that the provisions of the proposed bills could represent a "backlash" of public indignation over "punishment" meted out to convicted politicians.

A personal opinion if you please, the higher the office our elected officials hold (usually meaning the greater the trust we place in that official and the more leadership we expect from him or her) the greater the misdeed he or she can do with an ever decreasing fear of being taken to task for such misdeed. The reverse, of course, should be true, with the judge who interprets the law and who violates the law being subject (automatically) to the harshest penalty set up to enforce the law.

Next most severely dealt with should be the legislators who enact the laws. In short, the more knowledgeable the individual is of the law and who then violates that law, the more severe should be the penalty. But back to the case in point, this letter is being directed to both of you to register my opinion that both the Senate and House bills previously referred to should be defeated as they are currently written.

It is impossible for me not to comment on several points made in the July 8th mailing; I can only hope that you will give some consideration to those comments.

Mr. Ferency, on page 2, states "The proposed bill in a number of its provisions would establish and maintain the present two-party system in our state in perpetuity." Gentlemen, both of you must surely be aware that our present state law provides that for a candidate to get his or her name (i.e., not be a write-in candidate) on the ballot, he or she must be a candidate of a party with a national state.

This would appear to be discriminatory, unconstitutional, and a blatant denial of equal rights under the law, and does in fact, maintain the two party system. Of course, since this provision of the law favors equally the two major parties of our country and the professional politicians within those two parties who work for and gain the status of "favorable candidates" with party endorsement, there is no hue and cry to effect a change. I can appreciate the fact that a ballot could become so cumbersome as to discourage the average citizen from going to the polls, yet it would seem reasonable that an independent could get his or her name on the ballot by submitting petitions bearing the same number of signatures as do the petitions submitted by either of the two major parties. Would either, or both, of you gentlemen care to author such a bill?

On page three with reference to Section 121, Mr. Ferency states "In any case, this provision again makes it very nearly impossible to establish and maintain political party loyalties and discipline. Candidates are encouraged, if not obligated, to be beholden to no one but themselves." While much of Section 121 seems absurd, I personally would hope that there will be candidates who feel their loyalties belong to their constituents, not a blind loyalty to their party. Beholden? Please let our elected officials be beholden only to themselves and to their electorate as it relates to their campaigns. To be beholden one must be under an obligation for a favor or gift; surely the only obligation that our elected officials should have as it applies to the office he or she holds, is to serve the people of his or her district in the manner that he or she campaigned under.

Cause "Political Reform" Legislation under No. 3 with reference to page 59 line 1 of H.B. 5250 and S.B. 880 there appears a statement that reads in part "Assuming that it is proper to require public officials to file financial statements. . .". While I am an elected official, I did not file such a statement — not because I am opposed to such a statement, but rather because it did not enter my mind at the time and was not suggested to me that it should be filed. At the same time, I can appreciate that such a filing could lead to personal complications that have no bearing on the public interest. I, personally, am not so interested in the total worth of an individual, but at the same time I do think that an elected official's sources and amounts of income very well might bear on the public's interest. Would either, or both of your gentlemen author or support such legislation?

Then there is the "Dear Senator or Representative" enclosure. On the back side under Committee aims we read that the Committee will propose necessary reforms when need is demonstrated. Gentlemen, there is hardly a week goes by that the papers do not report instances that indicate reforms are badly needed now. The very fact that the Committee felt the need to make the July 8 mailing, the very fact that the House and Senate are considering their respective Bills, the very fact that Bills have been introduced leads one to the conclusion that reforms are necessary. Truly it would seem that government today is being run for the benefit of the elected officials rather than for the good of those people who are making it all possible — the taxpayers.

SPEAK TO WOMEN REALTORS: Conny Dub of Dearborn (left), and Libby Wright of Flint spoke Friday at St. Joseph Holiday Inn to the Southwest Chapter of Women's Council of Realtors. The speakers are Michigan governors of the Women's Council of Realtors of the national association. Both hold offices and serve on committees in local, state and national Women's Council of Realtors association.

I would most appreciate hearing from you both at your respective conveniences.

Niles Man Will Be Arraigned

CASSOPOLIS — Gerald L. Richmond, 29, of 510 1/2 North Second street, Niles, was scheduled to be arraigned in Fourth District court here today on a charge of felonious assault, Cass sheriff's deputies said.

The charge stemmed from a family fight Sunday night on the front steps of the Cass county medical care facility, 101 North Roland street, Cassopolis, in which Richmond's wife, Joann, 41, and 14-year-old son were allegedly struck with a fire iron, deputies said. Richmond was allegedly struck with a bottle, police said.

Mrs. Richmond and her son, William Lynn, were treated and released from Pawating hospital, Niles, and Richmond was treated and released from Lee Memorial Hospital, Dowagiac, following the 9:30 p.m. fracas.

Senate Probing Claims Of CIA Counterfeiting

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel has been exploring for several months an allegation that the CIA counterfeited U.S. money to finance its Vietnam operations, but has yet to substantiate it.

Howard J. Feldman, majority counsel for the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations, said Sunday the panel has yet to "corroborate" the allegations of Central Intelligence Agency counterfeiting activity during the Vietnam War but will continue to look into it.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Stocks Continue Downtrend

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pulled back again today, continuing last week's downturn.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off more than a point, and declines established a 3-2 lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the market was suffering from the continued effects of rising interest rates and concern over a possible new flareup of inflation.

More banks this morning joined in an increase in the prime lending rate from 7 1/4 to 7 1/2 percent.

One favorable note in the economic news was the government's report that the United States had a record trade surplus in June, with exports exceeding imports by $1.74 billion.

Litton Industries was off 3/4 at 7 in active trading. The company said it was having liquidity problems because of the Defense Department's refusal to make certain payments to it.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average completed its worst weekly decline of the year with a 6.18 drop to $54.09. The week's loss was 28.32 points.

That left the Dow nearly 48 points below its 1973 closing high of $81.81 on July 15.

Losers outnumbered gainers by more than a 2-1 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index was down .40 at 97.87.

Big Board volume declined to 15.11 million shares, the lightest total in 2 1/2 months.

The American Stock Exchange market value index was off .43 at 91.14.

Boat And Trailer Stolen

SOUTH HAVEN — Mark Copping of Jackson reported Saturday that a boat and trailer valued at $2,500 were stolen, according to South Haven police.

The owner said the 10-foot-long hydroplane and trailer were parked on Black River street near the municipal marina.

Theft occurred sometime Saturday while the engine of the boat was being repaired, according to the owner.

Buy Gas, Oil Now, State Farmers Told

By JIM KEEGSTRA
Associated Press Writer

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan farmers are being advised to purchase gasoline and diesel fuel now to avoid price hikes which could hit during harvest periods.

A news release sent to county extension directors by Michigan State University says, "In view of potential price rises, farmers might do well to buy harvest season supplies at this time."

"Chances of fuel being available ... are good, but the question is, how much will it cost?" the bulletin says.

State reserves of gas have shrunk to three days and to less than one day for fuel oil. Sizeable price increases could follow if Congress allows federal regulations on the oil industry to expire Aug. 31. If the power lapses, at least two major oil companies have said they would pull out of the state.

It's predicted that Congress will extend the allocation program until able to provide a suitable substitute, the bulletin says. But President Ford is seeking deregulation over several years.

If the act is extended as is, farmers will retain their No. 1 priority to buy fuel. However, if allocation expires, gasoline suppliers and retailers will be able to command whatever price the market will bear, the publication states bluntly.

There would be no guarantee farmers would be able to find supplies at this time.

If controls are lifted, industry observers say, Gulf Oil Corp. and Atlantic Richfield Co. would jump at the chance to leave Michigan. Many independent stations might also close since suppliers would not have to sell to them anymore.

Atlantic, or Arco, would be especially missed in rural northern Michigan, said William Archer, director of the state Energy Office in Lansing.

Arco has already closed bulk plants in Upper Peninsula areas now supplied from Wisconsin.

'Body' Really Snoozes

"Sleeping sound as a baby" — that's the way police described a man found this morning taking a snooze in the grass at Russ field.

Benton Harbor and Benton township police responded to the scene about 8 a.m. after they received a report of a body being found at the airport by members of the Federal Aviation ground crew.

The man was found sleeping about 60 feet off the taxiway to the east-west runway near the Whirlpool hangar. He identified himself to police as Sammy Prickett, 35, and said he was working on a farm in Benton township.

According to police, Prickett said he became lost while trying to return to the farm and popped down in the grass for the night when it became dark.

Crashes In State Kill 18

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A triple fatality in Saginaw County and three two-victim crashes boosted Michigan's weekend highway toll to 18, State Police report.

Three persons died Sunday night in a two-car, head-on auto crash in Saginaw County's Maple Township. The victims were identified as Michael Hovancek, 19, of New Lothrop; William Darling of Burt and his wife, Charkene, both 68.

Deputies said one car apparently pulled out to pass a tractor and drove head-on into the other auto.

Jill Roehrig, 15, of Newaygo and Jack Berghman, 18, of Sand Lake, died Sunday in a two-car accident on U.S. 31 in Oceana County's Shelby Township.

A pair of two-person fatalities pushed Michigan's weekend traffic death toll to 12, State Police reported today. Half the victims were under 18 years old.

Two teenagers died Sunday in Jackson County when the car they were riding in hit a tree. They were identified as Gerald H. Armstrong and Kirk Steinaway, both 15 of Chelsea.

Three other young people riding in the car were treated and released from area hospitals.

Saturday, a Memphis couple was killed when their vehicle ran into a ditch in Ionia County. Dead are Ester J. McCormick, 51, and Harry McCormick, 78.

State Police said other victims were:

—Lawrence McAllister, 17, of Mason, who died Friday in Gregory when the car he was riding in hit a telephone pole.

—Mary Hadbas, 73, of Detroit, a pedestrian who was struck by a car Saturday in Detroit.

—Florence Marian, 58, of Clayton, passenger in a two-car crash Saturday in Lenawee County.

—Mark J. Ried, 21, of Trenton, who died Sunday in Monroe County when his motorcycle went off the road.

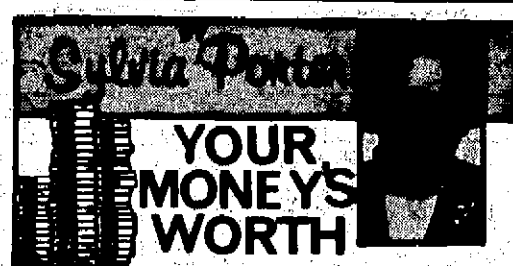

—James Leon Chestnut, 28, of Inkster, killed Sunday in Detroit when his vehicle ran off the road.

—Douglas Hathorn, 48, of Farmington Hills, who died Sunday in Farmington Hills when the car he was riding in collided with a motorcycle.

—Two-year-old Joseph Campbell of Belding died Sunday in Ionia County. He was a passenger in a car that rolled over.

—Glen Thomas Clark, 16, of Beulah, a pedestrian who died when he was hit by a car Sunday in Benzie County.

—Dennis Calahan, 33, of Wheeler, driver in a three-car, head-on collision Sunday on Michigan 46 in Saginaw County's Thomas township.

THAT 'GOLD RUSH' — WHAT HAPPENED

Q. What happened to the "gold rush" so widely predicted when on Jan. 1, 1975, Americans were permitted for the first time in more than 40 years to buy gold bullion?

A. It turned into a turtle race. While speculators (in Switzerland and France particularly) bid up the price of gold to over $200 an ounce at year-end in anticipation of our huge demand and some "gold bugs" even forecast that gold would soon sell for $500 or even $1,000 an ounce, the price slipped well below $200 instead.

Customers did not crowd department and jewelry stores to buy the yellow metal, many banks and brokerage firms actually complained that weeks went by without a single query about gold.

Why? The fundamental explanation is that you were put on guard. Acting separately and together, the Treasury, the Federal Reserve System and the Securities and Exchange Commission pounded home the risks of buying gold. Newspapers the nation over wrote millions of words of warning. The more educated you became, the more your reluctance to reward the "gnomes of Zurich" with your dollars.

Buying interest among Americans is now perking up a bit. An illustration was the lively response to the U.S. Treasury's second auction of 500,000 ounces of gold at $166.05 an ounce on June 30. But as of this moment, you show no signs whatsoever of going on a real gold-buying binge.

Gold, though, has been in demand throughout most of recorded history, and over the long-term its price trend surely will continue upward along with prices of most other metals and commodities. Its attractiveness in jewelry and in many areas of industry is indisputable. It is easily identifiable, easy to ship, easy to store.

What's more, as the value of paper money shrinks, the value of gold usually increases. Speculators who timed their purchases of gold with the "up-jacking" of its price from the $35-an-ounce figure set in the 1930s have made fortunes as its price has climbed to the $180-$190 range. Gold has a great allure as a hedge against galloping inflation and as a type of financial "security blanket."

But for most of you, its purchase simply doesn't make sense. It's a speculation, with all the inherent dangers. It's a sterile holding, returning neither dividends nor interest — and in fact, it costs you money to own gold, for you have to pay a premium to buy it and then pay for storage and insurance too.

Also, when you consider the interest you lose, the price of a gold bar must rise at least 20 percent in a year for you merely to break even!

Say, though, that despite all these arguments you still want to place $2,000 to $5,000 in gold. Here are your guidelines:

(1) Generally, it is wiser to buy "common" gold coins than gold bars or wafers — meaning coins bought for their gold content, not numismatic value, which sell for a modest premium above their gold content value. Common gold coins are rarely counterfeited, are quickly recognizable, are bought and sold by most dealers at a narrower mark-up or spread than on small gold bars.

Many dealers and banks have toll-free "800" numbers you can call to get immediate quotes on the most popular gold coins.

Among the most popular common gold coins are the Mexican 50 peso (1.2057 oz. of gold); the Austrian 100 crown (0.8802 oz.); the South African Kruggerand (1.1 oz.); and the U.S. double eagle (0.9673 oz.).

(2) Try to buy gold coins with the smallest premium over their actual gold content.

(3) If you buy gold bars, trade only with reputable dealers willing to guarantee they will buy back your bars at a fixed mark-up. Gold bars can be easily counterfeited; it's hard to sell gold bars to strangers and thus an advance commitment from your dealer is solid protection for you. If you must have your bars assayed before sale, this is cumbersome, time-consuming and expensive.

(4) If you buy gold mining stocks or mutual funds specializing in gold mining shares, do not underestimate the fact that these stocks are more speculative than owning the gold itself.

Cyclists Hurt In Van Buren

SOUTH HAVEN — Accidents in the South Haven area last night hospitalized two people, according to state police from the South Haven post.

Clinton Wiseman, 6, route 5, South Haven, was listed in fairly good condition today at Holland hospital from injuries suffered when a car struck the boy as he rode a bicycle on 88th street north of 103rd avenue, Caseo township, at 9:35 p.m.

Troopers said the youth was struck by a car driven by James Veiling, 29, route 2, Hamilton.

State Ready to Sixteen Paths For Bike Buffs

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Sixteen hard-surfaced bicycle paths are now open or under construction in Michigan, Gov. William Milliken said in a statement Sunday.

Another 11 are scheduled for construction, he said, adding that the state has approved nearly $800,000 in bike-path construction contracts along state highways during the past year.

The state Department of Highways and Transportation expects to spend another $750,000 on bike projects next year, he said.

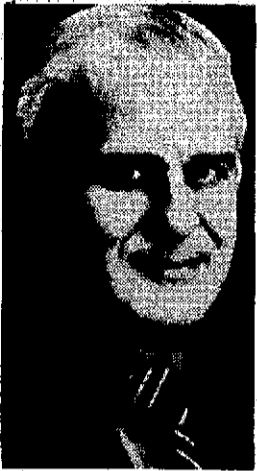

The longest and most complex of the paths now being built is a 40-mile bikeway along the Interstate 275 fence through Monroe, Wayne and Oakland counties, Milliken said. Federal aid will cover 90 per cent of the path's $2.4 million cost.

"It is evident that Michigan's two-year-old bikeway program is moving at a good pace," Milliken said. "They will make travel safer and more pleasant for many of Michigan's over three million bicycle owners."

The bikeway program was set in motion by the legislature with a 1973 law permitting expenditure of state gas and weight taxes for construction of non-motorized transportation facilities.

Some counties and local governments also have bike paths efforts, under way, Milliken added.

The state Highway Commission has approved a 38-mile combination bridge and bike path to accommodate hikers, bikers and horseback riders along an abandoned railroad right-of-way between South Haven and Kalamazoo.

LEE MEMORIAL

Hospital Remodeling Bid Dates Named

DOWAGIAC — Construction bids for Lee Memorial hospital's new addition and remodeling project will be let by Oct. 1, with construction contracts to be awarded to successful bidders in November, the hospital's board has announced.

The hospital's architectural and financial consultants said building plans and specifications will be completed by Oct. 1, assuming timely action is taken by the various state authorities empowered to review and approve the plans. Richard J. Brachear Jr., vice president of the Chicago investment banking firm, Barcus, Kindred & company, said if the state's approval of the bond issue financing is delayed until after November, interim financing can be arranged to enable the board to go ahead with awarding construction contracts on schedule.
